L. 77523

Collation: 20 preliminary leaves, containing the title of the register, verso blank, and the alphabetical table of the work, in double columns; text of the chronicle, leaves 1-cclxvi, verso blank; "De Sarmacia regione Europe," etc., 5 unnumbered leaves, and one blank leaf; continuation of the chronicle, leaves cclxvii-ccxcix, with a double-page map of Central Europe filling the verso of this leaf and the recto of the next (unnumbered) leaf, which has the colophon on the verso. No signature marks.

The Nuremberg Chronicle, as this work is generally called, contains upwards of 2000 woodcuts designed and engraved by Michael Wolgemuth and Wilhelm Pleydenwurff. Folios cclviii, cclx and cclxi were purposely left blank on both sides, the reason for which is given in a passage on the verso of folio cclviii: "Cartas aliquas sine scriptura pro sexta etate deinceps relinquere conuenit. iudicio posterior. q̄ emēdare addere. atq; gesta principum ꝛ priuatorum succedentium perscribere possunt." A double-page map of the ancient world is on folios xii and xiii. On the verso of folio ccxc is a brief account of the Portuguese voyage of discovery along the coast of Africa in 1483 [1484], under the direction of Diego Cam and Martin Behaim of Nuremberg, which has been used as a basis for the unwarranted theory that the expedition reached America.

"In 1484 King John sent an expedition under Diego Cam, as Barros calls him, Cano according to others, to prosecute discoveries along the coast of Africa. In this expedition Behem sailed as cosmographer. They crossed the equinoctial line, discovered the coast of Congo, advanced to twenty-two degrees forty-five minutes of south latitude, and erected two columns, on which were engraved the arms of Portugal, in the mouth of the river Zagra, in Africa, which thence, for some time, took the name of the River of Columns. ... The assertion that Behem had discovered the western world previous to Columbus, in the course of the voyage with Cam, was founded on a misinterpretation of a passage interpolated in the chronicle of Hartmann Schedel, a contemporary writer. This passage mentions, that when the voyagers were in the Southern Ocean not far from the coast, and had passed the line, they came into another hemisphere, where, when they looked towards the east, their shadows fell towards the south, on their right hand; that here they discovered a new world, unknown until then, and which for many years had never been sought for except by the Genoese, and by them unsuccessfully. ... These lines are part of a passage which it is said is interpolated by a different hand, in the original manuscript of the chronicle of Schedel. De Murr assures us that they are not to be found in the German translation of the book by George Alt, which was finished the 5th October, 1493. But even if they were, they relate merely to the discovery which Diego Cam made of the southern hemisphere, previously unknown, and of the coast of Africa beyond the equator, all which appeared like a new world, and as such was talked of at the time. ... This interpolated passage of Schedel was likewise inserted into the work De Europâ sub Frederico iii., of Æneas Silvius, afterwards Pope Pius ii., who died in 1464, long before the voyage in question. The misinterpretation of the passage first gave rise to the incorrect assertion that Behem had discovered the New World prior to Columbus; as if it were possible such a circumstance could have happened without Behem's laying claim to the glory of the discovery, and without the world immediately resounding with so important an event. This error had been adopted by various authors without due examination; some of whom had likewise taken from Magellan the credit of having discovered the strait which goes by his name, and had given it to Behem."—IRVING'S Columbus, Appendix xiii. See also Major's "Life of Prince Henry of Portugal," pp. 326, 327, and Winsor's "Narrative and Critical History of America," ii. 34, 35.

Corrected title of No. 25472, Vol. vi. For the title of the companion volume, which contains the "Weltbuech" of Sebastian Franck, see No. 25471. They were published together at the expense of Sigmund Feyerabend and Simon Hüter, booksellers of Franckfurt. Leaves 1-110 of this volume contain accounts of Portuguese voyages to the East Indies. The second part begins with the following heading: "Warhafftige vnd liebliche Be-|schreibung etlicher fürnemen Indianischen Landt-|schafften vnd Insulen, die vormal in keiner Chronicken gedacht, | vnd erstlich in der Schifffart Vlrici Schmidts von Straubin-|gen, mit grosser gefahr erkündigt, vnd von ihm sel-|ber auff's fleissigst beschrieben vnd |dargethan." This division contains the voyage of Ulrich Schmidt or Schmidel to Brazil and Rio de la Plata, leaves 1-26; and the voyage of Hans Staden to Brazil, leaves 27-59. Some copies were issued separately with the following special title:

Portrait, Map in 2 sheets, and 15 Plates on separate leaves. L.

The vignette on the title represents the author riding on a lama, with an attendant in front and another behind. At the head of the dedication on page 1 is an engraved coat of arms. The portrait is entitled "Contrafactur Ulrichs Schmidels." The map, which is in two sheets, usually pasted together, has the following title on the upper margin: "Nova et exacta delineatio Americæ partis avstralis. que est: Brasilia, Caribana, Gviana regnum Nouum Castilia del Oro, Nicaragua, Insulæ Antillas et Perv. Et sub Tropico Capricorni, Chile, Rio della Plata, Patagonv̄, & Fretv̄ Magellanicv̄. Noribergæ. per Levinum Hulsium. Anno. 1599." The fifteen copperplates are lettered on the upper corners as follows: Cap. 8, Cap. 9, Cap. 11, Cap. 13, Cap. 17, Cap. 20, Cap. 21, Cap. 25, Cap. 28, Cap. 30, Cap. 36, Cap. 42, Cap. 44, Cap. 47, and Cap. 54. This edition forms the fourth part of Hulsius's collection of voyages in Latin.

15 Plates. L. 77680

Part iv. of the collection of Hulsius. The vignette on the title, the coat of arms on the second leaf, the map in two sheets pasted together, the portrait and 15 plates, are the same as those in the Latin edition, and have the same marks. The pagination begins on the verso of the fifth leaf, and is continued in that way, the even numbers on the right-hand side, to page 103, which is on the verso of the last leaf. There is another copy of this edition in the Lenox Library which does not contain the words "Vierte Schiffart" at the top of the title, but a close examination shows that they have been erased.

SCHMIDT. Vierte Schiffart. | Warhafftige Historien. | Einer Wunderbaren | Schiffart, welche Ulrich Schmidel von Straubing, | von Anno 1534. bisz Anno 1554, in Americam oder Neuwewelt, | bey Brasilia vnd Rio della Plata gethan. A-O in fours. Map, Portrait and 15 Plates. L. 77681

The portrait and fifteen plates are the same as in the preceding edition, but the map, which in this copy is in two sheets not pasted together, has some additions on the lower part. In the left-hand corner has been engraved "N<sup>o</sup>. 2," and under the inscription in the right-hand corner, the additional words "Per Levin: Hulsium. A<sup>o</sup>. 1602." Three small islands, with the inscription "Francisci Draco Ins:." have been added below the lower border. Page 1 is on the verso of the fifth leaf, and page 103 on the verso of the last leaf.

SCHMIDT. Vierde Schiffart. | Warhafftige Historien. | Einer Wunderbaren | Schiffart, welche Ulrich Schmidel von | Straubing, von Anno 1534 bisz Anno 1554. in A- | mericam oder Neuwewelt, bey Brasilia vnd Rio della Plata ge- | than. Number five of Ternaux's collection of voyages. Second title: Histoire véritable
d'un Voyage Curieux, fait par Ulrich Schmidel de Straubing, dans l'Amérique ou le
Nouveau Monde, par le Brésil, et le Rio de la Plata, depuis l'année 1534, jusqu'en
1554. Où l'on verra tout ce qu'il a souffert pendant ces dix-neuf ans, et la description des pays et des peuples extraordinaires qu'il a visités. Ouvrage écrit par lui-même, et publié [sic] de nouveau après corrections des noms de villes, de pays et de rivières, par Levinus Hulsius. Nuremberg. Aux frais de Levinus Hulsius. 1599. "Ulrich Schmidel, the author of this narrative, was a common soldier who accompanied Mendoce and Cabeça de Vaca in their conquest of the countries south of Brazil. His history bears internal evidence of veracity, which is further attested by contemporaneous accounts.
Its pages are one continuous record of massacre and enslavement of the Indians. Of the fifty-five chapters, eleven are descriptive of these battles or rather slaughters. Two we rejoice to read, because they narrate some considerable retributive killing of the Spaniards by the Indians. Thirteen chapters are filled with descriptions of the various tribes and nations he encountered. Ternaux published this work translated into French in his collection of voyages, with many corrections of names. Not the least of its interest to us is contained in his account of the character, adventures, and imprisonment of Cabeça de Vaca."—FIELD. For an English version see Purchas, vol. iv., pp.

Title from Coote's bibliography of Schöner's works, from a copy in the British Museum, containing but five leaves. This tract is described in Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 535, as containing on the recto of the second leaf and also on the verso of the last leaf an engraving of a terrestrial globe with the inscription Typus globi Astriferi. The work to which it is a supplement is described under No. 77808, infra.

The name Timiripa, "which is the græcised equivalent for Schöner's rural abode on the banks of the Ebrenbach," has been identified by Mr. C. H. Coote of the British Museum as the village of Kirch-ehrenbach, situated about four miles south-east of Bamberg. It is probable that the tract was printed there on the author's own printing-press. Attention was first called to this extremely rare piece by Senhor Varnhagen in his "Nouvelles Recherches" concerning Amerigo Vespucci (Vienna, 1869?), p. 20, where he described a copy in the Imperial Library at Vienna. A copy is also in the British Museum. A third copy, bound with a Honter of 1549, was sold at auction in Paris in 1867 (Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," No. 733); and again in 1869 (Maisonneuve's "Bibliotheca Historica," No. 1186). The work contains a brief sketch of the Spanish and Portuguese voyages to the East and West Indies, from Vasco de Gama to Ferdinand Magellan. It has been reprinted in Dr. Wieser's "Magalhães-Strasse," pp. 118-122, and also by Henry Stevens and Senhor Varnhagen as described below, under Nos. 77803 and 77807.

The terrestrial globe to which it relates is a woodcut engraving measuring about  $24\frac{3}{4} \times 11$  inches, printed on two leaves and divided into twelve gores, to be cut and mounted on a sphere. It contains the earliest cartographical representation of the discoveries of Magellan in the first voyage round the world in 1519-1522, the path of which is lined out from beginning to end. In this globe, as Mr. Stevens remarks, Schöner "projected and worked out the  $360^\circ$  of the world in a far more correct and intelligible manner than ever had been done before. The discoveries of Columbus were placed in their true positions, the duplicate Cuba was eliminated; the discoveries of Juan Ponce de Leon of 1512-13 were posted up. The Voyages of Hernandez de Cordova 1517-18, Grijalva of 1518, Cortes and Garay 1519, were all given a place, as well as those of Nunez de Balboa in 1513. Then the Globe was blown out and all the length and breadth of the Pacific put in, Ptolemy's world shrivelled up, and the islands of the sea drummed together; Florida is here named for the first time in print, and the Moluccas have found a local habitation and their true places as well as many of the real isles of the sea: while all the monsters and bogus elements of American geography are made to disappear." The name America was also purposely omitted, although it had been used by Schöner on his two earlier globes. The only copy known of this globe-map was brought to light in 1884, by Ludwig Rosenthal, a bookseller of Munich, who offered it for sale in 1885 (Catalogue XLII, No. 136). It was first identified in 1884 as the long lost third globe of Schöner by Dr. Franz Wieser of Innsbruck, who published an account of the map in 1888. Its great importance was afterwards recognized by the late Mr. Henry Stevens, who purchased and subsequently sold it for a very large sum to Mr. Charles H. Kalbfleisch of New York, in whose unrivaled collection it now remains. A fac-simile accompanies Dr. Wieser's paper, and another was published with Stevens's "Johann Schöner."

A hand-book to accompany Schöner's celestial globe. The dedication is dated "E Norico nonis Junij." A copy of this work, bound with the "Opusculum Geographicum" of 1533, is described in Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 536, as containing on the verso of the title the same terrestrial globe that appeared in the "Appendices" of 1518. It was reprinted in 1548 as an appendix to the work of Gemma Phrysius. See Vol. vii., No. 26856.

[Norimbergæ. 1533.] 4to, 22 unnumbered leaves. BM., J.C.B.

On the verso of the title is a woodcut of the globe which was made to accompany the book. The dedication is dated "Ex urbe Norica Id. Nouembris. Anno xxxiii." Chapters xx. and xxi. relate to "Regiones extra Ptolemæum," and the last page contains a notice of Brazil. This work exhibits a remarkable change in Schöner's geographical opinions. The claims of Vespuccius and the name America are here both rejected, the whole new world described as a part of Asia, and the city of Mexico identified with Quinsay in China. See Leclerc's "Bibliotheca Americana," 1878, No. 536, note.

The only known copy of Schöner's fourth globe is in the Military Library at Weimar. It is without date or name of the maker, but has been identified by Dr. Wieser as the globe which was made to accompany the above work in 1533. A facsimile of the portion containing the South American continent is given in Wieser's "Magalhães-Strasse," plate v. See Winsor's "Bibliography of Ptolemy's Geography," p. 16.

SCHÖNER. Also printed on large paper in octavo. The letter of Schöner (No. 77800, supra), and the work of Maximilianus Transylvanus are here reproduced in exact facsimile, with English translations. The facsimile maps comprise: (1) The Hunt-Lenox Globe of 1506-7; (2) the Boulonger Globe accompanying the "Cosmographiae Introductio" of 1514-17; (3) the western half of Schöner's first globe of 1515; (4) the western half of Schöner's second globe of 1520; (5) Schöner's third globe of 1523; and (6) a portion of the "Cantino" map of 1502.

Collation: 14 preliminary leaves, and a slip containing eight lines of errata; leaf containing a large woodcut of a globe entitled "Orbis Typvs," verso blank; and leaves 1-65, verso of last one blank. Sig. a in eight, b in six, A and B in eights, C-G in fours, H-K in eights, and L in six, including the "Orbis Typvs."

On the verso of the title is a large woodcut coat of arms. The dedication, "Reuerendissimo in christo Patri ac domino. Dño Georgio ecclesiae | Babenbergens. Episcopo dignissimo: domino ac patrono suo grati- | osissimo: Ioannes Schoner Charolipolitanus: præbyter: Mathema|ticus humilime sese cõmendat," dated at Bamberg, "Nono Calendas Aprilis," is on the recto of the second leaf. This is followed on the verso by another, "Clarissimo Viro Bili|baldo Pycckhaymer Patricio haudnõ Se|natori Norico: dño & amico suo venerando Iudochus Rocho- | merus Noribergens. Artium & Medicinæ doctor: felicitatem." The third leaf contains on the recto a Latin poem with the heading, "Ioann. Stabivs Avs. Poe. Lav. de Glo- | bo Cosmographico honorabi- | lis viri domini Ioannis Scho|ner Sacerdotis Baben|bergensis," which is followed on the verso by another with the caption, "Fratris Nicolai Hortvlani|Epigramma in Commfñ [sic] | dationem libri | et vctoris." The index, with the heading "Regionvm Inventarium," begins on the recto of the fourth leaf, and ends on the lower part of the recto of the thirteenth. The list of "Emendationes erratum Calcographi" begins on the lower part of the same page, and ends on the verso of the fourteenth leaf. Between these two leaves (b5 and b6), in the Lenox copy, is pasted the slip of additional errata mentioned in the above collation. The first leaf of signature A, which follows next, contains a large woodcut of a globe on a stand, with the words "Orbis Typvs" in the upper part. Underneath are the following lines:

Hexastichos Ioannis Coclei in libellum

Ecce liber paruus, res magna, ars multa Mathesis
 Pulcer opus pulcrum condidit arte noua.
 Cernere quippe licet tractus terrae orbe sub isto
 Quae regio Antipodas miraq; monstra ferat
 Quae ignotae gentes Antarctica sydera spectent
 Quas calor exurat, Quas praemat algor iners.

An engraving of a "Sphaera circularum" is on the verso of leaf 4, and another of a globe on the recto of leaf 16. The part relating to the new world begins on the recto of leaf 60, with the heading, "Capitv. xi. De America quarta orbis parte cum aliis nouis insulis appositis," and ends on the verso of leaf 61. In this chapter the suggestion of Waltzemüller in the "Cosmographiae Introductio" is adopted, and the name "America siue Amerigen nouus mundus" is derived "ab eius inuictore Americo Vesputio viro sagacis ingenii: qui eam reperit Anno domini. 1497." Preceding the colophon on leaf 65 are eighteen lines of Latin verse with the heading, "De clarissimo quodam Globo Ioannis Schöner: omnes Astrorum imagines continente: aliquot versus Ioannis Hiltner."

There is a copy of this book in the Library of Congress at Washington (collection of Peter Force), lacking the fourteen preliminary leaves, which has been described by Mr. HARRISSE in his "Bibliotheca Americana Vetustissima," No. 81, as "one of the forms in which the Luculentissima is sometimes found." It does not seem probable, however, that any copies were originally issued in such an imperfect state. A perfect copy was priced by Quaritch (Catalogue, part XII., No. 28129) in 1886 at £25.

This geographical description of the world was prepared to accompany the terrestrial globe mentioned in the privilege on the title-page and in the verses on the third leaf. Two copies of that globe are now known to be extant, one at Frankfort on the Main, and the other in the Military Library at Weimar. Although undated and without the name of the maker, they have both been identified as Schöner's first globe made at Bamberg, and ascribed to the year 1515, by Dr. Franz Wieser in his "Magalhães-Strasse," Innsbruck, 1881. A complete facsimile, colored to resemble the original, is given in Jomard's "Monuments de la Géographie," plate xvii, from the copy at Frankfort, with the title, "Globe terrestre de la 1<sup>re</sup>. moitié du xvi<sup>e</sup>. siècle conservé a Frankfort sur le Mein." Facsimiles of the western hemisphere are also given in Wieser's work, plate 2, from Jomard's facsimile, with corrections from the copy at Weimar; in Winsor's "Narrative and Critical History of America," vol. II., p. 118; and in Henry Stevens's "Johann Schöner," fig. 3, from Wieser. The globe was probably first printed on paper in gores, and afterwards cut and mounted on a wooden sphere. According to Dr. Wieser it is the earliest globe bearing the name America, which appears on the southern continent, with Brasilia Regio on another continent below. This statement, however, has been controverted, as there are at least two other printed globe-maps which may well claim precedence. For a description of them see Waldseemüller (M.)

In 1520, Schöner brought out his second globe at Bamberg, at the cost of his friend Johann Saylor. Like the globe of 1515, it appears to have been first printed on paper and afterwards mounted on a wooden sphere. The only known copy is in the town library at Nuremberg. It bears the inscription, "Perfecit eum Bambergae 1520. Joh. Schönerus." The inscription America vel Brasilia siue Papaçalli terra here appears on the southern continent, and the name Brasilia Inferior on another continent below. Facsimiles of it in whole or in part are given in the atlases of Santarem and Lelewel, in Ghillany's work on Martin Behaim, in Wieser's "Magalhães-Strasse," in Winsor's

"Narrative and Critical History of America," II. 119, in Stevens's "Johann Schöner," and in other works. See Winsor's "Bibliography of Ptolemy's Geography," pp. 13, 15, 16, for other references.

The author of the above tale attempted in his own person to revive the old family name, but soon abandoned it, and concluded to retain that which was begotten upon his native soil. "Schoolcraft's work was intended to be a great encyclopædia of information relating to the American Aborigines. With great earnestness, some fitness for research, and a good degree of experience of Indian life, Mr. Schoolcraft had but little learning and no scientific training. In consequence, his six volumes are little more than a magazine, of such matter relating to the Indians as fell to his hand, including a rehash of all which he had before written and printed in numerous other forms. Badly arranged, and selected as it is, the work contains a vast mass of really valuable material. It has indeed performed a very important service for Indian history, in collecting and preserving an immense amount of historic data. Vocabularies of Indian languages, grammatical analyses, legends of various tribes, biographies of chiefs and warriors, narratives of captivities, histories of Indian wars, emigrations, and theories of their origin, are all related and blended in an extraordinary and perplexing manner. A very large number of beautiful steel engravings, representative of some phase of Indian life and customs, are contained in the work, but the most valuable of its illustrations are the drawings of weapons, domestic utensils, instruments of gaming and amusement, sorcery and medicine, objects of worship, their sculptures, paintings, and fortifications, pictograph writing, dwellings, and every form of antiquities, which have been discovered."—FIELD. A partial list of the contents of the first five volumes is given in Trübner's "Bibliographical Guide to American Literature," pp. 256-259. For later issues of the work see "Information respecting the History," etc., No. 77855, infra, and "Archives of Aboriginal Knowledge," No. 77839, supra.

SCHOOLCRAFT. Information respecting the History, Condition and Prospects of the Indian Tribes of the United States: collected and prepared under the direction of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, per Act of Congress of March 3d, 1847, By Henry R. Schoolcraft, LL.D. Illustrated by S. Eastman, Capt. U. S. A. Published by Authority of Congress. ... Philadelphia: Lippincott, Grambo & Company, (Successors to Grigg, Elliot & Co.) 1853-1857. 6 parts, 4to. 77855

This differs from No. 77849, supra, only in "Part 1.," which is a reissue with new titles uniform with the other parts. A cheap edition of the work, printed from the same plates on smaller and thinner paper in imperial octavo size, was also published under the same title and imprint; but it comprises only the first five volumes, 1853-1856, and therefore is incomplete.

SCHOOLCRAFT. Inquiries, respecting the History, Present Condition, and Future Prospects, of the Indian Tribes of the United States. By Henry R. Schoolcraft, Office Indian Affairs, Washington, D. Hosford.* 1821. 8vo, pp. 419, Index (4), Errata 7 lines. Map, engraved title, and 7 Plates. A.

Engraved title: "Narrative Journal of Travels, from Detroit Northwest through the Great Chain of American Lakes to the sources of the Mississippi River in the year 1820 By Henry R. Schoolcraft. ... Albany, Published by E. & E. Hosford 1821." "The author has interwoven with his narrative a large number of incidents of Indian history, personal experiences among the tribes he visited, and sketches of their principal characteristics, derived from persons living among them."—FIELD. Partly reprinted in the "Summary Narrative," No. 77878, infra.

SCHOOLCRAFT. Narrative of an Expedition Through the Upper Mississippi to Itasca Lake, the actual source of this River; embracing an Exploratory Trip through the St. Croix and Burntwood (or Broule) Rivers; in 1832, Under the direction of Henry R. Schoolcraft. New-York: Published by Harper & Brothers, No. 82 Cliff-Street. 1834. 8vo, pp. (2), 307, (1).
A., B. 77863

"Most of this narrative is occupied with interesting incidents of Indian life and character, extracts from manuscript journals of the fur-traders, and traditions of the aborigines. Pages 169 to 210 of the Appendix, are devoted to an analysis and vocabulary of the Chippewa language. The remainder of the volume is filled with the official reports of the author, to the government, on the number, disposition, and characteristics of the Indian tribes he visited, and with biographical sketches of their principal chiefs."—FIELD. Partly reprinted in the "Summary Narrative," No. 77878, infra.

Henry R. Schoolcraft ... . Albany: Erastus H. Pease & Co., 82 State Street. 1847. 8vo, pp. xiv, (1), 498. 2 colored Portraits.

"A much more pretentious but less valuable work than his official report on the same subject. It was intended to be a popular reproduction of the material embodied therein, but the substitution of a narrative history, based upon and composed of hypothesis, for substantial facts, even in the unattractive form of an official document, does not compensate for the lack of the solid structure of history."—FIELD.

SCHOOLCRAFT. Notices of some Antique Earthen Vessels found in the low Tumuli of Florida, and in the Caves and Burial Places of the Indian Tribes North of those latitudes. Read at the Monthly Meeting of the New York Historical Society, June, 1846, By Henry R. Schoolcraft. New York: William Van Norden, Printer. 1847. 8vo, pp. 15. 2 Plates. BA. 77866

Cover-title: "The Indian in his Wigwam, or Characteristics of the Red Race of America. By Henry R. Schoolcraft. New-York: W. H. Graham, Tribune Buildings, 1847." One of the woodcut plates contains figures of two Indians standing, one with a tomahawk; the other represents Pocahontas saving the life of Capt. John Smith. This is a new edition of "Oneóta." For later editions, with different plates, see "The Indian in his Wigwam," No. 77852, supra.

SCHOOLCRAFT. Remarks on Native Silver from Michigan. By Henry R. Schoolcraft. New York. 1825. 8vo. 77873

SCHOOLCRAFT. Report Of Mr. Schoolcraft, to the Secretary of State, transmitting the census returns in relation to the Indians. [Albany. 1846.] 8vo, pp. 285, Note (1). 77874

The above is the heading on page 3. The first page begins: "State of New-York. No. 24. In Senate, January 22, 1846. Communication From the Secretary of State, transmitting the report of Mr. Schoolcraft, one of the agents appointed to take the census or enumeration of the Indians, &c." The census of the Iroquois fills pp. 3-20; and the supplementary report on antiquities, history and ethnology, pp. 21-285. This is perhaps the most valuable of Mr. Schoolcraft's works, having been executed after personal examination in an official capacity of all the tribes inhabiting New York. The appendix contains vocabularies of the Tuscarora, Mohawk, Cayuga and Oneida languages. For a reissue with a special title-page and a list of contents, see "Notes on the Iroquois," No. 77864, supra.

SCHOUTEN (W. C.) Iovrnal | Ofte | Beschryvinghe van de | wonderlicke reyse, ghedaen door Willem Cornelisz | Schouten van Hoorn, inde Iaren | 1615. 1616. en 1617. | Hoe hy bezuyden de Strate van Magel- | lanes een nieuwe Passagie tot inde groote Zuyd- | zee ontdeekt, en voort den gheheelen Aerd- | kloot omghe- seylt, heeft. | Wat Eÿlanden, vreemde volcken en wonderlicke | avontueren hem ontmoet zijn. | [Large vignette of ships and a city.] | 't Amsterdam, | By Willem Iansz. op 't water inde Sonnewyser, 1618. | 4to, pp. (8), 92. A-L in fours, and M in six. 9 Maps and Plates, folded. J.C.B., C. 77920

The first edition of Schouten's narrative, with the dedication dated September 25, 1618. It can be easily distinguished from the October edition (No. 77921, infra) by the first word of the title, which in the latter is "Iovrnael" instead of "Iovrnal." The publisher and editor of the work is better known by his full name Willem Jansz Blaeuw or Blaeu, although he seldom used it in his publications before 1620. He was born at Uitgeest near Alkmaar, studied mathematics and astronomy under Tycho Brahé, and after becoming a bookseller, compiled and published under his own name several important works, including the well known atlases. The copperplate vignette on the title represents the ships of the expedition sailing from Hoorn, with the arms of Holland and Hoorn in the upper corners. The dedication to the chief magistrates of Hoorn begins on the recto of the second leaf, and ends on the verso with the above-mentioned date and the signature of Willem Iansz. The "voorreden" or preface commences on the recto of the third leaf, and is followed on the verso of the fourth by an anagram on Schouten's name.

The nine copperplate maps and plates are as follows :

(1) A double-page map of the world in two hemispheres preceding page 1 of the text, with portraits of Magellan and Schouten above, and of F. Drake, O. van Noort, T. Candisch and G. Speilbergh at the sides. In the upper corners are figures of the two ships of the voyage, the "Victoria" and "Eendracht." The earliest impressions of this map, which are found in some copies, do not contain the additional names which were added shortly afterwards, namely, Tropicus Cancræ and Tropicus Capricorni on the western hemisphere, and the four names Iapō, Banda, C. Bonæ Spei and S. Helena on the eastern hemisphere. On the back of the first leaf of the map are verses with the heading "Klinckert," and on the lower margin the signature mark a5. The back of the second leaf also contains verses, with the headings "Klinck-ghedicht" and "Vierlingh."

(2) Double-page plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 18 and 19, with reference letters A to N, and on the verso of the first half the descriptive text, headed, in roman letters, "Verklaringhe sommigher aenwysinghen in dese volghende Caerte van Porto Desire," and the signature mark D<sub>2</sub> on the margin below.

(3) Double-page map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 24 and 25, with the signature mark E on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch and in French, "Caarte vande nieuwe Passagie bezuijden de Strate Magellani," etc., and "Description de nouveau passage vers le zud du destroit de Magellan," etc.

(4) Oblong folded map of the South Sea between pages 32 and 33, with the signature mark F on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin, "Caarte vande Zuidzee," etc., "Description de la grande Mer de Sud," etc., and "Tabula Hydrographica Maris Australis vulgo del Zur," etc.

(5) Double-page plate of an Indian sailing canoe pursued by the Dutch, between pages 40 and 41, with the signature mark G on the lower margin. No inscriptions.

(6) Double-page plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt Isle de Cocos and Verraders Eylandt Isle des traistres between pages 44 and 45, with the signature mark G<sub>3</sub> on the lower margin.

(7) Double-page plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn between pages 56 and 57. Most copies of this plate contain also the reference letters A, B, C (which are lacking in the earliest impressions), with a brief descriptive text on the back of the first leaf, headed, in roman letters, "Verklainghe van sommighe aenwysingen in dese Caerte van de Reede aen't Hoornsche Eylandt," and the signature mark H<sub>5</sub> on the margin below.

(8) Double-page plate of a meeting with the Indian kings in a village, between pages 60 and 61. Most copies of this plate contain also the reference letters A to L (which are lacking in the earliest impressions), with the descriptive text on the back of the first leaf, headed, in roman letters, "Verclaringhe van sonmighe aenteyckeninghen in dese volghende Caerte," and the signature mark I<sub>3</sub> on the margin below.

(9) Double-page map of Nova Guinea between pages 68 and 69, with the signature mark K<sub>3</sub> on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin, "Caarte van Nova Guinea," etc., "Description de la coste septentrionale de Nova Guinea," etc., and "Novæ Guinea: Tabula," etc.

I am indebted to Mr. James C. Pilling for photographs of the title and first map of the copy in the Library of Congress, from which the above title is taken. That copy contains the first map with the additional names, and plates (7) and (8) with the reference letters.

Some copies of this edition, according to Tiele, also contain a large map of the world originally published by Gul. Janssonius (Willem Jansz) in 1606, but with the strait of Le Maire added. A copy lacking the first map was priced by Müller in 1872 at 40 florins.

Although entered here under Schouten's name, it is quite certain that he was not the true author of this journal. It was probably compiled in his interest by the bookseller and publisher Willem Jansz Blaeu, from one or more of the log-books of the voyage, and perhaps mainly from the one kept by the commissary Aris Claeszoon. The expedition was undertaken at the expense of some of the chief citizens of Hoorn, principally at the instigation of the rich merchant Isaac Le Maire and his son Jacob Le Maire, the latter of whom sailed as director of the enterprise, while Schouten had the command of the ships. The results of the voyage were very profitable commercially, and many important geographical discoveries were made; but before the return to Holland young Le Maire died at sea. Much jealousy and ill feeling was caused by the different claims for the credit of the enterprise, which undoubtedly belonged in great part to the elder Le Maire. The first published account was the above journal, in which it is made to appear that the success of the voyage was due to the skill and sagacity of Schouten. Jacob Le Maire's journal was printed in 1622, under the title of "Spiegel der Australische Navigatie," for which see Vol. xi., No. 44059. Schouten's journal, in whole or in part, is also appended to several of the editions of Spilbergen. See Tiele's "Mémoire Bibliographique sur les Journaux des Navigateurs Néerlandais," pp. 56-63.

A reprint or reissue of No. 77920, but with a new dedication dated October 12, 1618. The maps and illustrations are from the same copperplates, and have the same positions and signature marks, but three of them contain the additional names and reference letters. They are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres opposite page 1, with the additional names Tropicus Cancrī and Tropicus Capricornī on the western hemisphere, and Iapā, Banda, C. Bonæ Spei and S. Helena on the eastern hemisphere, all of which are lacking in the first impressions of this plate. On the backs of both leaves are the same verses as in the first edition, and on the lower margin of the first is the signature mark a5.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 18 and 19, with the reference letters A to N. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text as in the first edition, with the signature mark D2 below.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 24 and 25, with the signature mark E on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch and French.

(4) Map of the South Sea between pages 32 and 33, with the signature mark F on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin.

(5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 40 and 41, with the signature mark G on the lower margin.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 44 and 45, with the signature mark G3 on the lower margin.

(7) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, between pages 56 and 57. Also with the reference letters A, B and C, which are lacking in the first impressions of this plate. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text, headed, "Verklaringhe van sommige aenwysingen in dese Caerte van de Reede aen't Hoornsche Eylandt," and the signature mark H5 below.

(8) Plate of a meeting with the Indian kings, between pages 60 and 61. Also with the reference letters A to L, which are lacking in the first impressions of this plate. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text, headed, "Verclaringhe van sommige aenteyckeninghen in dese volghende Caerte," and the signature mark I3 below.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 68 and 69, with the signature mark K3 on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin.

An exact reprint of the original edition (No. 77920), by a different publisher, with the dedication dated September 25, 1618, and signed Willem Iansz. According to Tiele, Jan Jansz or Janssen of Arnheim printed in that town as early as 1604 and as late as 1637. He was probably the father of Jan Jansz and Harmen Jansz, the booksellers at Amsterdam. The vignette on the title-page and the nine plates, all of which were engraved on copper, are very close imitations of those in the first edition, but a few variations will nevertheless be noticed on a close examination. The maps and plates are arranged as follows :

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres preceding page 1, with portraits above and at the sides, but without the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancrici and Tropicus Capricorni on the western half, and without the names Iapā, Banda, C. Bonæ Spei and S. Helena on the eastern half. On the verso, the same verses as in the first edition, and the signature mark a5.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 18 and 19, with the reference letters A to N, and on the verso of the first half the descriptive text, headed, in italic letters, "Verklaringhe sommigher aenvvijsinghen in dese volghende Caerte van Porto Desire," and the signature mark D2 on the margin below. At figure K on the plate three persons only are represented killing the sea lion; the head of a fourth, which appears in the original edition, being omitted here.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo between pages 24 and 25, with the title in Dutch and French, "Caerte vande nieuwe Passage [sic]," etc., and in the lower left-hand corner the inscription Fol. 24, but with no signature mark.

(4) Map of the South Sea between pages 32 and 33, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, but without any signature mark. In the lower right-hand corner is the inscription Strate van La Maire, instead of Strate van le Maire as in the original plate.

(5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 40 and 41, with the inscription Fol. 41 in the lower left-hand corner, but without signature mark. Only two persons are represented swimming here, instead of the three in the original plate.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 44 and 45, with the inscription Fol. 45 in the lower right-hand corner, but without signature mark.

(7) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn between pages 56 and 57, with the reference letters A, B, C, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, in italic letters, "Verklaringhe van sommighe aenvvijsinghen in dese Caerte van de Reede aen't Hoornsche Eylandt," with the signature mark H5 below. On the right-hand portion of the plate two of the natives are figured seated near the water, instead of three as in the original edition.

(8) Plate of a meeting with the Indian kings between pages 60 and 61, with the reference letters A to L, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, in italic letters, "Verklaringhe van sommighe aen-teeckeninghen in dese volghende Kaerte," with the signature mark I3 below.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 68 and 69, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, but without signature mark. The latter part of the Latin title reads, "Hermano Batavo," instead of "Hornano Batavo" as in the original plate.

According to Tiele, some copies also contain the large map of the world by W. Jansz, mentioned in the note to No. 77920, supra.

This edition is the same as the preceding (No. 77922), the only difference being the change of imprint. The publisher Jan Jansz or Janssen of Amsterdam, was probably a son of Jan Jansz of Arnheim. He was the son-in-law of the map-maker Jodocus Hondius, and brother-in-law of Henricus Hondius. According to Tiele, he afterwards assumed the name of Janssonius. In the Lenox copy two of the plates, (4) and (7), are evidently misplaced, the former between pages 40 and 41, the latter between pages 52 and 53. The copy described by Tiele contained in addition the large map of the world by W. Jansz, mentioned in the note to No. 77920, supra.

A reprint of No. 77922, with the dedication dated September 25th, 1618, and with the same plates. According to Tiele, the descriptive text on the backs of the plates is also reprinted. The publisher, Harmen Jansz or Janssen of Amsterdam, was probably a son of Jan Jansz of Arnheim, and a brother of Jan Jansz of Amsterdam.

A reprint of the edition of 1624 (No. 77925), with some alterations in the text, but without dedication or preface. On the last page is the following list of the plates, with their respective positions: Werelt-Caertgen, fol. 3; Leeuwen Eylandt, 13; Terra del Fuogo, anders Staten Eylandt, 17; Indiaensche Schuyt met besaen, 27; Cocos-Eylandt, 29; Indiaensche Koningh onder de hut, 35; Hoornsche Eylandt, 40; Nova Guinea, 49; Caerte van de Zuyder-zee, 55. A reprint of the edition of 1632 (No. 77926), without the dedication and preface. The maps and illustrations, however, are from the same copperplates that were used in Willem Jansz's corrected edition, No. 77921, supra. They have no descriptive text on the backs. On the last page is a list of them, with their positions at pages 3, 13, 16, 26, 28, 34, 39, 47, and 53.

A new and improved edition, augmented by extracts from three other journals of the same voyage, and by the following vocabularies from Le Maire's journal on pages 53-56: Vocabvlaer: Ofte Tale van de Eylanden die VVillem Cornelisz. Schouten inde Zuydt-Zee aenghedaen of besocht heeft. Tale vande Eylanden Salomonis. Tale van het Cocos-Eylandt. Tale oft sprake van de Custe van Guinea Nova. Sprake van 't Eylant Moyses. Spraecke van 't Eylant Moo, op twee graden: daer de Flitzen waren. On the verso of the title is a new preface "Tot den Leser," in which attention is called to the superior merits of this edition. There are several small woodcuts printed in with the text. On page 52 is a list of the nine plates, all of which, without exception, were newly engraved on copper after those of the original edition (No. 77920). They are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres opposite page 3, without the additional names, verso blank. Inscribed Nom. 1. Fol. 3.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 12 and 13, with the reference letters A to N. Inscribed Nom. 2. Fol. 13. The descriptive text is at the top of page 13.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 16 and 17, with the title in Dutch only, "Caerte vande nieuwe Passagie bezuyden de Strate Magellani," etc. Inscribed Nom. 3. Fol. 17.

(4) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 26 and 27. Inscribed Nom. 4. Fol. 26.

(5) Plate with the two brief inscriptions Cocos Eylandt and Verraders Eylant, between pages 26 and 27. Inscribed Nom. 5. Fol. 27.

(6) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings in their village, between pages 32 and 33, with the reference letters A to L. Inscribed Nom. 6. Fol. 33. The descriptive text is at the top of page 33.

(7) Plate with the single inscription Hoornse Eylandt between pages 38 and 39, with the reference letters A to C. Inscribed Nom. 7. Fol. 38. The descriptive text is at the top of page 38.

(8) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 46 and 47, with the title in Dutch only, "Caerte van Nova Guinea," etc. Inscribed Nom. 8. Fol. 46.

(9) Map of the South Sea between pages 50 and 51, with the title in Dutch only, "Caarte vande Zuydzee," etc. Inscribed Nom. 9. Fol. 51. This map is reduced in size one half.

A duplicate of the preceding editions (Nos. 77930, 77931), the only change being in the imprint. The stub of the canceled title, on which the above title is pasted, can be easily seen in the Lenox copy. On the verso of the title is the new preface "Tot den Leser." An additional leaf, not found in the other editions, is also inserted in the Lenox copy, between the title and first map. It bears the signature mark A2, and contains a reprint of the original dedication of September 25, 1618, signed Willem Iansz., and the anagram on Schouten's name. This leaf contains 34 lines of text on the recto and 27 on the verso, including the heading and catchword. The copies of this edition described by Tiele ("Mémoire Bibliographique," p. 50) were imperfect, and probably had some of the plates supplied from other editions.

This fills pages 67-120 (signatures E2 to H4 in eights) of Hartgers's edition of "Oost- en West-Indische Voyagie, Door de Strate Magallanes Naer de Moluques, Met ses Schepen onder den Commandeur Ioris Spilbergen," etc., for full title and description of which see Spilbergen (J.). Although it is sometimes found separate from that work, it does not seem probable that it was ever issued so by the publisher. In the folded plate at the front of the volume, three of the six figures belong to Schouten's narrative, and refer to pages 76, 80 and 100.

SCHOUTEN. Iournael | Ofte | Beschryving vande won- | derlijcke Voyagie, ghedaen door VVillem Cor- | nelisz Schouten, van Hoorn, in den Iaere | 1615, 1616, ende 1617. | Hoe hy bezuyden de Straete van Magellanes, een nieuwe | Passagie ondeckt, en de geheele Aerd-cloot om-gezeylt heeft. | [Vignette of a ship.] | Tot Dockvm. | Gedruckt by Louis Vlas-bloem, Boeckdrucker wonende inde Kerc | straet int Schrijf-boeck 1649. | 4to, pp. (6), 7-56. A-G in fours. 6 Plates. L. 77934

On the recto of the second leaf begins the "Inleydinghe tot den Gunstighen Leser," which fills three pages. The verso of the third leaf has the heading, "Stelt de Caerten aldus," followed by the numbers of the plates, 1 to 6, to be placed at pages 7, 17, 30, 31, 37 and 42. In the middle of the same page is a typographical ornament. The copperplates are quite different from any in the editions described above, all except the maps being reversed imitations of those in Willem Jansz's corrected edition (No. 77921, supra). They appear to have been first used in Vlas-bloem's Latin edition of 1648 (No. 77959, infra), which see for a fuller description. In this copy they are not inscribed with the numbers which were afterwards added, but are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres opposite page 7, with portraits above and at the sides, and with the additional names Tropicus Cancræi, Tropicus Capricorni, etc., verso blank.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 18 and 19, with the reference letters A to N. The descriptive text, "Aenwijzing vande kaerte No. 2," is at the top of page 18.

(3) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe opposite page 30.

(4) Plate with the inscriptions Verraders Eijlandt Isle des traistres and Cocos Eijlandt Isle de Cocos, opposite page 31.

(5) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings between pages 36 and 37, without the reference letters A to L. The descriptive text, "Verklaringhe van de Figure No. 6 [sic]," is at the top of page 37.

(6) Plate of Hoorn island, between pages 42 and 43, without the name of the place, and without the reference letters A and B. The descriptive text, "Verklaringhe van de Figure No. 7 [sic]," is at the top of page 42.

The long folded map of the South Sea, which is found in Vlas-bloem's Latin editions of Schouten's journal, perhaps ought to accompany this edition also, although it is not included in the list of plates. The following edition has the same title, but contains variations.

SCHOUTEN. Iovrnael | Ofte | Beschryving vande won-|derlijcke Voyagie, ghedaen door V Villem Cor-|nelisz Schouten, van Hoorn, in den Iaere | 1615, 1616, ende 1617. | Hoe hy bezuyden de Straete van Magellanes, een nieuwe | Passagie ondeckt, en de geheele Aerd-cloot om-gezeylt heeft. | [Vignette of a ship.] | Tot Dockvm. | Gedruckt by Louis Vlas-bloem, Boeckdrucker wonende inde Kerc | straet int Schrijf-boeck 1649. | 4to, pp. (6), 7-56. A-G in fours. 6 Plates. 77935

This edition, although it has the same title, differs from No. 77934 in several respects. The descriptive text for two of the plates is at the end of the text on page 56. The maps and illustrations are from the same copperplates, but with the numbers and reference letters added. They are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres opposite page 7, containing the number 2 in the lower right-hand corner.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt, with the reference letters A to N, and the number 3 in the lower right-hand corner. The descriptive text is on page 56, where this plate is referred to as No. 2.

(3) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe, unnumbered.

(4) Plate with the inscriptions Verraders Eijlandt Isle des traistres and Cocos Eijlandt Isle de Cocos, with the number 4 in the lower left-hand corner.

(5) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, with the reference letters A to L, and the number 5 in the lower right-hand corner. The descriptive text is on page 56, where this plate is referred to as No. 5.

(6) Plate with the single inscription Hoornse Eylandt and the reference letters A and B (all of which are lacking in the earliest impressions of this plate), and with the number 6 in the lower right-hand corner.

Concerning the map of the South Sea, which perhaps ought also to accompany this edition, see the note to No. 77934, supra.

A-F in fours. 6 Plates. L. 77937*

This edition contains no prefatory matter. The plates are the same as in Vlasbloem's second edition of 1649 (No. 77935, supra), with the numbers and reference letters, etc. They are arranged as follows in the Lenox copy:

- (1) Map of the world in two hemispheres, numbered 2, opposite page 3.
- (2) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe, unnumbered, between pages 4 and 5.
- (3) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt, numbered 3, and with the reference letters A to N, between pages 12 and 13. The descriptive text, "Verklaringhe vande Caerte, No. 2 [sic]," is on page 47.
- (4) Plate with the inscriptions Verraders Eijlandt Isle des traistres and Cocos Eijlandt Isle de Cocos, numbered 4, between pages 20 and 21.
- (5) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, numbered 5, and with the reference letters A to L, between pages 24 and 25. The descriptive text, "Verclaringhe vande Figuyre, No. 5," is on pages 47, 48.
- (6) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eylandt, numbered 6, and with the reference letters A and B, between pages 32 and 33. The descriptive text, "Verklaringhe van de Figuyr, No. 6," is on page 48.

According to the directions on the last page, headed "Stelt de Caerten aldus," the plates as numbered there 1 to 6 should be placed at pages 3, 12, 21, 24, 28 and 33. The map of the South Sea is not in the Lenox copy, nor is it included in the numbering of the plates.

A reprint of Hartgers's edition, No. 77933, supra, with the addition of some of the vocabularies of the Hoorn edition of 1648 on pages 47, 48. It forms one of the parts, usually the eleventh in order, of Saeghman's collection of voyages, published between 1663 and 1670. A woodcut portrait of Schouten is on the verso of the title, and six engravings are printed in with the text, which is in double columns.

A poorly printed edition in double columns, without maps or plates, but with six rude engravings in the text. The last two pages contain, "Vocabulaer, of Tale van eenige Eylanden, die Willem Cornelisz Schouten, in de Zuydt-Zee aen gedaen heeft," i. e. of the Salomon islands, and of the islands of Cocos, Moysse and Moo. "Dans la collection de pamphlets de la Bibliothèque Royale de la Haye (*Biblioth. This edition agrees in text page for page and column for column with the undated one published by Michiel de Groot, No. 77941, supra. There is some variation in the woodcuts, however, and they are not all arranged in the same way.

The first edition of Schouten's journal in French. It was probably published at about the same time as the first Dutch edition (No. 77920, supra), in the latter part of September, 1618. The "Avant-propos" fills the second and third of the preliminary leaves, and is undated. The maps and plates are from the copperplates of the original edition, and in the Lenox copy three of them are in their first state, before the additional inscriptions and names were engraved. They are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres preceding page 1, with portraits above and at the sides, and the signature mark B on the lower margin. This impression of the map, verso blank, does not contain the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancrī and Tropicus Capricorni on the western half, or the names Iapā, Banda, C. Bonæ Spei and S. Helena on the eastern half.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 14 and 15 [or 16 and 17], with the reference letters A to N, and on the verso of the first half the descriptive text, headed, "Esclaircissement de quelques demonstrations en la Carte suivante de Porto Desire," and the signature mark C4 on the margin below.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 18 and 19, with the title in Dutch and French, and the signature mark D2 on the margin below.

(4) Map of the South Sea between pages 24 and 25, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, and the signature mark E on the margin below.

(5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 36 and 37, with the signature mark F<sub>3</sub> on the margin below.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 40 and 41, with the signature mark G on the margin below.

(7) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, between pages 50 and 51 [or 48 and 49]. This impression of the plate, verso blank, contains the signature mark H<sub>2</sub> on the lower margin, but is without the reference letters A, B and C, and has no descriptive text.

(8) Plate of the Indian kings and their village between pages 56 and 57. This impression of the plate, verso blank, contains the signature mark I on the lower margin, but is without the reference letters A to L, and has no descriptive text.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 64 and 65, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, and the signature mark K on the margin below.

A copy of this edition, lacking two plates, was priced by Leclerc in 1878 ("Bibliotheca Americana," No. 1989), at 200 francs.

A-M in fours. 9 Maps and Plates, folded. L. 77948

A reissue of No. 77947, supra, differing only in the preliminary matter and in some of the plates. Following the title is the "Preface Au Lecteur de bonnaire" in five pages, which is quite different from the "Avant-propos" of the undated edition. On the verso of the fourth preliminary leaf are two epigrams on Schouten's voyage, neither of which are in No. 77947. Pages 1 to 88 of the text are not reprints, but are identical in both editions. The maps and illustrations are from the same copperplates and have the same positions, but three of them contain variations.

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres preceding page 1, with the signature mark B on the lower margin. This impression of the map, verso blank, contains the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancræ and Tropicus Capricorni on the western half, and the names Iapî, Banda, C. Bonæ Spei and S. Helena on the eastern half.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 14 and 15, with the reference letters A to N. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text as in No. 77947, with the signature mark C<sub>4</sub> below.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 18 and 19, with the signature mark D<sub>2</sub> on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch and French.

(4) Map of the South Sea between pages 24 and 25, with the signature mark E on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin.

(5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 36 and 37, with the signature mark F<sub>3</sub> on the lower margin.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 40 and 41, with the signature mark G on the lower margin.

(7) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, between pages 50 and 51. Also with the reference letters A, B and C, which are lacking in the first impression of this plate. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text, headed, "Declaration de quelques demonstrations en ceste Caerte de la Rade de l'Isle de Hoorne," and the signature mark H2 below.

(8) Plate of the Indian kings and their village between pages 56 and 57. Also with the reference letters A to L, which are lacking in the first impressions of this plate. On the verso of the first half is the descriptive text, headed, "Declaration de quelques marques en ceste Carte suivante," and the signature mark I below.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 64 and 65, with the signature mark K on the lower margin, and the title in Dutch, French and Latin.

Priced by Maisonneuve in 1881 ("Bibliotheca Americana," No. 2952), at 200 francs; Dufossé in 1887 ("Americana," No. 22954), at 85 francs. A set of the nine plates alone was priced by the latter bookseller in 1888 (No. 29284), at 50 francs.

A reprint of No. 77948, by a different publisher, with the title vignette, maps and plates that were used in Jan Janssen's Dutch editions (Nos. 77922—77926, supra), which see for a fuller description. The second, third and fourth preliminary leaves contain the "Preface. Au lecteur debonnaire" in five pages, and the epigrams on Schouten on one page. The illustrations are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres, verso blank, opposite the title. Without signature mark, and without the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancri, etc.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 14 and 15, with the reference letters A to N, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Esclaircissement de quelques demonstrations en la Carte suivante de Porto Desire," and the signature mark C4 on the lower margin.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 24 and 25, with the title in Dutch and French, and in the lower left-hand corner the inscription Fol. 24, but without signature mark.

(5) Plate with the inscription Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 44 and 45, with the inscription Fol. 45 in the lower right-hand corner, but without signature mark.

(6) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn between pages 50 and 51, with the reference letters A, B and C, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Declaration de quelques demonstrations en ceste Carte de la Rade de l'Isle de Horne," and the signature mark H2 below. In the other French edition (No. 77948) two of the words in this heading are spelled "Caerte" and "Hoorne."

(7) Plate of the Indian kings and their village between pages 56 and 57, with the reference letters A to L, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Declaration de quelques marques en ceste Carte suivante," and the signature mark I below.

(8) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 80 and 81, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, but without signature mark.

(9) Map of the South Sea between pages 84 and 85, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, but without signature mark.

Tiele describes a copy (No. 40 of his list), in which the plate of Porto Desire was without any descriptive text on the verso.

This edition is the same as the preceding (No. 77949), the only difference being the change of imprint. The maps and plates are lacking in the Lenox copy. Priced by Müller in 1872 (No. 1956), 35 florins; Dufossé in 1887 (No. 26327), 60 francs. One of these Amsterdam editions in French was sold at Bolton Corney's sale in 1871 for ten guineas.

This edition is the same as the two preceding (Nos. 77949, 77950), the only difference being the change of imprint. "Pierre du Keere ou Pieter van der Keere, dont nous possédons entre autres de petits Atlas, a probablement gravé les cartes de ce journal."—TIELE.

Sig. ã in seven, A in four, and B-P in eights. 8 Maps and Plates, folded. L. 77952

This is mainly a reprint of the Amsterdam French edition of 1618, but with many alterations and improvements in the text. The first leaf of signature ã was probably a blank. Following the title is the dedication of the publisher, "A Monseigneur Monseigneur dv Vair, Garde des Sceaux de France," signed M. G., beginning on the recto of ãij and ending on the recto of ãiiij. On the verso of the latter begins a new preface "Av lectevr, Salvty," which fills eight pages, the verso of the last one being blank. The "Avant-propos" on pages 1-7, verso blank, is not the "Avant-propos" of the undated French edition, but a revision of the "Preface Au Lecteur de bonnaire" in No. 77948, with some changes. The text of the journal begins on page 9. Pages 56, 90, 91, 94, 95, 98, 99, 102, 103, 215 are respectively misnumbered 46, 100, 101, 104, 105, 108, 109, 112, 113, 115, and page 179 is numbered upside down. The eight maps and views are close imitations, on a slightly smaller scale, of the original plates in their first state, as they appear in No. 77947, but all the views and figures are reversed. They are arranged in the following order, each one except the first being inscribed with the number of the page opposite which it belongs :

- (1) Map of the world in two hemispheres opposite page 9, with portraits above and at the sides. Without the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancri, etc.
- (2) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., with the title in French. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 57.
- (3) Map of the South Sea, with the title in French. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 73.
- (4) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 103.
- (5) Plate with the inscriptions isle de Cocos, etc. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 113.
- (6) Plate with the inscription isle de Hoorn, without the reference letters A, B and C Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 137.
- (7) Plate of the Indian kings and their village, without the reference letters A to L. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 153.
- (8) Map of Nova Guinea, with the title in French. Inscribed f<sup>o</sup> 169.

Priced by Leclerc in 1878 ("Bibliotheca Americana," No. 1990), 130 francs; Dufossé in 1878 (No. 4909), 120 francs.

This edition is the same as the one preceding (No. 77952), the only difference being the change of date in the imprint. There are two copies in the Lenox Library, both of which have pages 56 and 215 wrongly numbered 46 and 115, and page 179 numbered upside down. The other errors of pagination had been corrected, but they will probably be found in some copies of this date.

This edition is the same as the two preceding (Nos. 77952, 77953), the only difference being in the substitution of a new title. There are two copies in the Lenox Library, in one of which pages 56, 90, 91, 94, 95, 98, 99, 102, 103, 215 are respectively mis-numbered 46, 100, 101, 104, 105, 108, 109, 112, 113, 115, and page 179 is numbered upside down. In the other copy all the errors of pagination had been corrected except pages 56 and 215, which are wrongly numbered 46 and 115, and page 179, which is numbered upside down.

The title, verso blank, is followed by the "Vorred" in two pages, after which the journal begins on the third leaf. This is closely printed in long lines, and does not appear to be abridged. The maps and illustrations, which are bound at the end of the volume, are from the same copperplates as those in the Dutch edition of the same publisher (No. 77922, supra), which see for a fuller description. They are as follows, the order of arrangement varying in different copies:

- (1) Map of the South Sea, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin.
- (2) Map of the world in two hemispheres, verso blank.
- (3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., with the title in Dutch and French, and the inscription Fol. 24.
- (4) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt, with the reference letters A to N, verso blank.
- (5) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, and the reference letters A, B and C, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Declaration de quelques demonstrations en ceste Carte de la Rade de l'Isle de Horne," with the signature mark H2 below.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., and Fol. 45.

(7) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, with the reference letters A to L, verso blank.

(8) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe, with the inscription Fol. 41.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin.

One of the two copies of this edition in the Lenox Library contains a woodcut portrait opposite the "Vorred," probably intended for Schouten, which may have been inserted at the time of publication.

The sixteenth part of Hulsius's collection of voyages. It is an entirely different version from No. 77955. The "Vorrede" fills the second and third leaves. The maps and plates are mostly imitations of those in the original Dutch edition, with one exception, and were engraved on copper specially for this edition. They are as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres between the title and "Vorrede," with portraits above and at the sides, verso blank. This does not contain the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancri, etc.

(2) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 20 and 21, with the title, "Carte der durchfahrt so Wil. Sch. neben dem fretto Magellanico Anno 1616. gefunden."

(3) Map of the South Sea between pages 30 and 31, with the title, "Caarte, darin der zuijdzde der weg gezeigt, den Wilhelm Schouten gefahren, beneben den Insulen vnd landen so er darin angetroffen."

(4) Small plate of the Indian sailing canoe opposite page 42, with the inscription L. A. in the upper left-hand corner.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 84 and 85, with the title, "Beschreibung Nouæ Gvineæ, wie die von Wilhelm Schouten vmbfâhren."

For the title of another German version, in De Bry's collection, see Vol. III., p. 57.

A-N in fours. 9 Maps and Plates, folded. L. 77957

The vignette on the title is from the same copperplate that was used in the Dutch editions of the same publisher. The "Præfatio Ad benevolum Lectorem" begins on the recto of the second leaf and fills four pages, followed by a Latin "Carmen" in two pages more. Pages 94 and 95 are wrongly numbered 82 and 87. On the recto of the last leaf is a woodcut of a compass, and on the verso a list of the winds in Dutch and Latin. The maps and illustrations are from the plates of the second Dutch edition (No. 77921, supra), containing the additional names and reference letters, and are arranged as follows:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres preceding page 1, with portraits above and at the sides, and the signature mark B on the lower margin, verso blank. With the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancræ, etc.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 22 and 23, with the reference letters A to N, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Notatio locorum nonnullorum in Tabula subsequenti, de Porto Desire," with the signature mark D4 on the lower margin.

(3) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 24 and 25, with the title in Dutch and French, and the signature mark D2 (altered by a pen to E) on the lower margin.

(4) Map of the South Sea between pages 36 and 37, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, and the signature mark F3 on the lower margin.

(5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe, between pages 44 and 45, with the signature mark G3 on the lower margin.

(6) Plate with the inscriptions Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 48 and 49, with the signature mark H on the lower margin.

(7) Plate with the inscription Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, between pages 58 and 59, with the reference letters A, B and C, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Notatio locorum in Tabula subsequenti, scilicet, statione Insulæ Hornæ," with the signature mark I2 below.

(8) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, between pages 62 and 63, with the reference letters A to L, and on the verso the descriptive text, headed, "Notatio locorum præcipuorum in Tabula in hac subsequenti," with the signature mark I4 below.

(9) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 70 and 71, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin, and the signature mark K (altered by a pen to K4) on the lower margin.

There are two copies of this edition in the Lenox Library, with slight variations in the positions of the signature marks on several of the maps and plates, showing that they were probably stamped on by hand. "Cette édition latine, publiée par Blaeu, a probablement été traduite par Nicolaas van Wassenæer."—THELE. Priced by Quaritch in 1874 (No. 10397), £6 6s.

A translation of the second Dutch edition, No. 77921, supra, different from No. 77957. The dedication, "Amplissimis, Prudentissimis, Ornatissimis DD. Domino Prætori, Consulibus, Scabinis, Rectoribus Famosissimæ Urbis Maritimæ, Hornæ," in two pages dated October 12th, 1618, and signed Guilielmvs Iansonius, is followed by the "Præfatio Ad Lectorem Benevolum" in four pages more. Besides the errors of pagination noticed in the above collation, pages 14 and 15 of the text are misnumbered 4 and 5. The maps and plates are identical with those used in Jan Janssen's French edition (No. 77949, supra), including the descriptive text in French on the backs of three of the plates. They are placed as follows:

- (1) Map of the world in two hemispheres, after the preface, verso blank.
  - (2) Map of the South Sea opposite page 1.
  - (3) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt between pages 16 and 17, with the descriptive text in French on the verso.
  - (4) Map of Tierra del Fuogo, etc., between pages 24 and 17bis.
  - (5) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe between pages 28 and 29.
  - (6) Plate of Cocos Eylandt, etc., between pages 30 and 31.
  - (7) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, between pages 32 and 33, with the descriptive text in French on the verso.
  - (8) Map of Nova Guinea between pages 38 and 39.
  - (9) Plate of Hoornse Eijlandt Isle de Hoorn, between pages 46 and 47, with the descriptive text in French on the verso.
- Priced by Dufossé in 1887 (No. 26326), 100 francs.

Sig. .: and A-K in fours. 7 Maps and Plates, folded. H. 77959

A reprint of No. 77958, supra, with the same dedication and preface, but with the former dated April 12, 1648, and signed Ludovicvs Vlas-bloem. The vignette on the title is a reversed copy of that in the original Dutch edition. On page 71 is added a list, "Tabellæ hoc modo impingantur," numbered 1 to 6, to be placed at pages 1, 20, 29, 36, 44, 52. At the bottom of the same page is a list of errata in seven lines. The seven maps and plates are imitations of those in No. 77921, newly engraved on copper for this edition, but the views and figures are reversed. They are as follows:

- (1) Map of the world in two hemispheres, with portraits above and at the sides, and the additional inscriptions Tropicus Cancræ, Tropicus Capricorni, etc. It can be distinguished from the other editions by the inscription Bra|lilia (instead of Bra|silia) on the South American continent.

(2) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt, with the reference letters A to N, verso blank. The view is reversed, so that the figures of the men killing the sea lion are in the right-hand corner of the plate.

(3) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe. The view is reversed, and the boats sailing towards the right-hand side.

(4) Plate of Verraders Eijlandt Isle des traistres and Cocos Eijlandt Isle de Cocos. The view is reversed, so that Cocos Eijlandt is on the right-hand side.

(5) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, without the reference letters A to L, verso blank. The view is reversed, so that the large standing figures are on the right-hand side.

(6) Plate of Hoorn island, without the name of the place, and without the reference letters A and B, verso blank. The view is reversed, so that the men in the boat firing guns are on the right-hand side.

(7) Long folded map of the South Sea, with the title in Dutch, French and Latin. It can be distinguished from the other editions by the three (instead of two) figures of ships, and by the word cemin (instead of cbemin) in the third line of the French title. The inscription Strate van le Maire is properly printed, as on the original map.

The map of the South Sea is evidently not included in the plate numbers on page 71. and is probably lacking in some copies. There is no doubt, however, of its belonging to the book. I am indebted to Mr. Wm. H. Tillinghast, of Harvard College Library, for the above title.

Probably a mere reissue of the preceding edition (No. 77959), with only a change in the imprint.

This appears to be a mere reissue of No. 77959, supra, the only difference being the substitution of a new title in place of the canceled one, and a few alterations in the plates. The dedication is dated April 12th, 1648, and signed Lvdovicvs Vlas-bloem. On page 71 is the list, "Tabellæ hoc modo impingantur," numbered 1 to 6, and the list of errata in seven lines. The seven maps and plates, in the Lenox copy, are bound together between the preface and page 1 of the text. They comprise the following:

(1) Map of the world in two hemispheres, with the number 2 added in the lower right-hand corner.

- (2) Plate of the Indian sailing canoe.
- (3) Plate of Porto Desire or Leeuwen Eylandt, with the reference letters A to N, and with the number 3 added in the lower right-hand corner, verso blank.
- (4) Plate of Verraders Fijlandt Isle des traistres and Cocos Eijlandt Isle de Cocos, with the number 4 added in the lower left-hand corner.
- (5) Plate of the meeting with the Indian kings, with the reference letters A to L added, and with the number 5 added in the lower right-hand corner, verso blank.
- (6) Plate of Hoorn island, with the inscription Hoornse Eylandt added, and with the number 6 added in the lower right-hand corner, verso blank.
- (7) Long folded map of the South Sea.

For the title of another Latin version, in De Bry's collection, see Vol. III., p. 44.

SCHOUTEN. A-L in fours, besides the first two leaves. L. 77962

The vignette map on the title represents Tierra del Fuogo and the southern part of America. The same cut is repeated on page 22. Following the title is the one-page dedication, "To the Right Worshipfull Sir Thomas Smith Knight, Governour of the East Indian Companie. &c.," signed with the initials of the translator, William Phillip, verso blank. "The Preface" begins on the recto of the third leaf and ends on the recto of the fourth, verso blank. This edition appears to have been published without any plates. A copy in the John Carter Brown Library at Providence is described in the printed catalogue as containing a frontispiece of the two hemispheres with portraits of Magellan and Schouten at top, a portrait of G. de Bloys, admiral of Zeland, and 3 maps and 6 plates, all of which were probably inserted. Another English account of the voyage is in Harris's collection, vol. x.

Improved title of No. 44058, Vol. XI., which see for a note. On the verso of leaf 12, in the margin, are the words "Aqui los Mapas." The maps, however, are not in the book.

SCORESBY (W.), b. 1789, d. 1857. An Account of the Arctic Regions, with a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery. By W. Scoresby, Jun. F.R.S.E. Illustrated by Twenty-four Engravings. In Two Volumes. ... Edinburgh: Constable. 1820. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. xx, 551, Appendix 82; viii, 558. 24 Maps and Plates. A. 78167

"The first volume of this work relates to the progress of discovery in the Arctic regions, and the natural history of Spitzbergen and the Greenland sea; the second is devoted to the whale-fishery as conducted in the seas of Greenland and Davis's Strait. Mr. Scoresby, the commander of a Greenland whaler, has here displayed much judicious and active observation, combined with no ordinary share of acquired knowledge and scientific attainment, and prompted by an ardent and generous zeal for useful discovery." —RICH. "This standard work comprises all that most persons can wish to know of the subjects of which it treats." —MACCULLOCH. "This, together with a voyage to Greenland, published subsequently by the same author, is full of most valuable information on the meteorology and natural history of this part of the world, besides containing interesting particulars of the whale-fishery." —STEVENSON. It is also highly commended in the "Monthly Review," XCIII. 225, 361.

William Scoresby the father, a successful arctic navigator and whaler, was born in 1760 and died in 1829. His son, the author of the above works, made a voyage to Greenland in 1800, when only eleven years of age. From that time until 1822, he made many voyages to the northern whale-fisheries. He afterwards retired from the sea, studied for the ministry, and was ordained a priest. In 1844, and again in 1848, he visited America, and in 1856, Australia. A list of his numerous works and scientific papers is appended to the biography written by his nephew, No. 78184, infra.

[SCOT (George), of Pitlochrie.] *The | Model | of the | Government | Of the | Province | of | East-New-Jersey | in | America ; | And Encouragements for such as Designs | to be concerned there. |
Published for Information of such as are de- | sirous to be Interested in that place. | Edinburgh, | Printed by John Reid, And Sold be [sic] | Alexander Ogston Stationer in the | Parliament Closs. Anno. |
DOM. 1685. | Sm. 8vo, pp. (8), 272. Sig. A in four, A (repeated) to O in eights, and P to U in fours.* 78186

The first (blank) leaf contains only the signature A on the recto. Following the title is the dedication "To James Earl of Perth, Lord Drummond and Stobhall, &c. Lord High Chancellor of Scotland," signed by "George Scot." At the end of this is an advertisement "To the Reader from the Printer," requesting him "with his pen to help what he finds amiss, the author's pressing affairs having hindered him from overseeing the press."

Mr. Whitehead has called attention, in his reprint, to a variation which is found on page 37. In the book as originally issued and "intended for circulation in Scotland," is a paragraph which "was modified when copies were circulated in England, a new leaf being inserted." In the former, of which copies are in the library of the New Jersey Historical Society and in the Lenox Library, the last paragraph on page 37 begins with the words, "I find removal likewise allowable in case of persecution," etc. In the latter issue, of which copies are in Harvard College Library and in the possession of Mr.

Whitehead, another paragraph was substituted, beginning with the words, "Where people find themselves straitned in point of their opinion," etc. The effect of the publication of this book was highly beneficial to the province in promoting its settlement, "particularly as the author added example to precept by embarking himself and family for East Jersey. He was accompanied by nearly two hundred persons, and sailed from Scotland in September, 1685, but both himself and wife died on the passage." See W. A. Whitehead's "East Jersey under the Proprietary Governments," New York, 1846 (second edition, Newark, 1875), where Scot's work is reprinted. The book is very rare. Mr. Murphy's copy sold in 1884 for $105.

By Patricke Scot, North-Brittaine. ... London, Printed by Bernard Alsop. 1625. 4to, 36 leaves. A-I in fours. BM. 78187*

The title is on A2, and the last leaf is blank.

SCOT (Phil.), pseudon. See Scots Settlement at Darien, infra.

SCOT (T.) Philomythie | or | Philomythologie | wherin | Outlandish Birds, Beasts, | and Fishes, are taught | to | speake true English | plainly. | By Tho: Scot Gent. | Philomithus est aliquo mo- | do philosophus: fabula enim | ex miris constituitur. | Arist. | London | for Francis Constable | at the white Lyon in | Paules Church-yard. | 1616. | Sm. 8vo, engraved title, and 88 leaves. Sig. ¶ in four, ¶ (repeated) in four, ¶¶ and A-I in eights, besides the title. BM.

In verse. The engraved title by Elstracke is in compartments, containing figures of birds and beasts, with portraits at the top of Æsop and the American philosopher. The dedications to the respective books are at the beginning of the volume. Among the preliminary pieces is one on Pandorsvs Waldolynnatsv, the merrie American Philosopher, or wise Man of the New World. A second division, with continuous pagination, begins on signature F2 with another title: Certaine Pieces of this Age Paraboliz'd ... London Printed by Iohn Legatt for Francis Constable ... 1615. In the British Museum copy there are copperplate engravings on pages 83 and 91, and a blank space for one on page 104. Blank spaces also occur in the text on pages 89, 126 and 127, on account of defects in the original manuscript.

SCOT. Philomythie | or | Philomythologie | wherin | Outlandish Birds, Beasts, | and Fishes, are taught | to | speake true English | plainly. | By Tho: Scot Gent. | Philomithus est aliquo mo- | do philosophus: fabula enim | ex miris constituitur. | The second edition, much enlarged. | London | for Francis Constable | at the white Lyon in | Paules Church-yard. | 1616. | Sm. 8vo, engraved title, and 92 unnumbered leaves. A-L in eights, and M in four, besides the title. L., BM. 78189

Following the engraved title, which was altered for this edition, is "A Præmonition to the intelligent Reader," on one leaf, signed by Thomas Scot, and "Sarcasmos Mvndo, or The Frontispice explained," in four leaves. Next is "A Svyly of the description of Monsier Pandorsvs Waldolynnats, that merry American Philosopher, or the Wiseman of the New World, being Antipode to Æsop, placed with him as parallel in the front," etc., in three leaves. An address "To the ouer-wise, ouer-wilfull, ouer-curious, or ouer-captious Reader" fills the next three pages. This is followed by the text, beginning on the verso of the eleventh leaf, with the dedications prefixed to the respective books, instead of being collected at the front, as in the first edition. On the first leaf of signature I is the title of the second division: Certaine | Pieces of this | Age Parabolizd. | viz. | Duellum Britanicum. | Regalis Justitia Iacobi. | Aquignispicium. | Antidotum Cecillianum. | By Thomas Scot | Gentleman. | Scire tuum nihil est. | London | Printed for Francis Constable, and are to be sold | at his shop at the signe of the white | Lyon in Paules Church-yard. 1616. | With seven woodcuts in the text. Some copies of this second portion have a different imprint: London Printed by Edward Griffyn for Francis Constable ... 1616.

Scot. Philomythie | or | Philomythologie | wherin | Outlandish Birds, Beasts, | and Fishes, are taught | to | speake true English | plainly. | By Tho: Scot Gent. | Philomithus est aliquo mo- | do philosophus: fabula enim | ex miris constituitur. | The second edition, much enlarged. | London | for Francis Constable | at the white Lyon in | Paules Church-yard. | 1622. | Sm. 8vo. BM. 78190

The engraved title is the same as in the other editions, the only alteration being in the date. The second division is dated 1616. There are two copies of this "second edition" with the date 1622 in the British Museum, which are said to differ from each other, and also from the "second edition" of 1616. Hazlitt mentions still another variety with this date, in which the words "second edition," etc., do not occur. The same bibliographer also states that this edition is sometimes found with a reprinted title-page bearing the date 1640.

SCOTS SETTLEMENT AT DARIEN.

The following titles relating to the Scots Settlement at Darien are supplementary to those already given in Vol. v., Nos. 18544-18575.

An Abstract of a Letter From a Person of Eminency and worth in Caledonia to a Friend at Boston in New-England. Boston, Printed May 15. 1699. 4to, pp. 2, 4. J.C.B. 78197

The letter of two pages was written from Fort St. Andrew, probably by William Paterson, the projector of the Darien company. The last four pages contain: "Caledonia. The Declaration of the Council constituted by the Indian and African Company of Scotland; for the Government and direction of their Colonies and Settlements in the Indies," signed "By Order of the Council, Hugh Ross, Secretary," and dated "New Edinburgh, December 28. 1698." Mr. Brinley's copy (No. 810) sold for $20. See also Vol. xiv., Nos. 59053-55, 59137.

An Act of Parliament for encouraging the Scots African and Indian Company. [Edinburgh. 1695.] 4to, pp. 8. J.C.B.

Dated, June 26, 1695. It was under this act that the Scots Settlement at Darien was founded. For another edition see Vol. v., No. 18544.

A reprint of Scott's "Vox Popvli," first published anonymously in 1620. The portrait of Count Gondomar was engraved by Pass, And to be sould by Thomas Jenner. "The person of honour appears to have been John Rowland, Rector of Footscray in Kent, who dedicates the tract to Sir William Pastons. But he was not perhaps aware that it had been printed as early as 1620, under the title of Vox Populi, &c., and was not by Cotton at all."—HAZLITT. Reprinted again in 1679, for which see "A Narrative," No. 78366, infra. The book contains several references to America.

[SCOTT.] An | Experimentall | Discoverie of | Spanish Practises | Or | The Covnsell of a | well-wishing Souldier, for the good of | his Prince and State. | Wherein | is manifested from known | experience, both the Cruelty, and Policy of the | Spaniard, to effect his own ends. | Chiefly | Swelling with multiplicity of glorious titles, as one | of the greatest Monarchs of the earth, that being admired of | all, his greatnesse might amaze all, and so by degrees | seeking covertly to tyrannize over all. When | as indeed and truth, the greatest part | of his pretended Greatnesse is but a | windy crack of an ambiti- | ous minde. | [London?] Printed, Anno. 1623. | 4to, title, and pp. 54. A-G in fours, and H in two, the first and last leaves blank. L. 78363

The book relates partly to America. The following is a supplement:

[SCOTT.] A Second | Part of Spanish | Practises. | Or, | A Relation of More | Particular wicked plots, and cruell, in | humane, perfidious, and vnnaturall | practises of the Spaniards. | With, | More Excellent reasons of greater consequence, de- | liuered to the Kings Maiesty to dissolue the two trea- | ties both of the Match and the Pallatinate, | and enter into Warre with the | Spaniards. | Wherevnto | Is Adioyned a Worthy Ora- | tion Appropriated, vnto the most Mighty and Illu- | strious Princes of Christendome, wherein the right and | lawfulnessse of the Netherlandish warre against Phillip | King of Spayne is approued and | demonstrated. | ... | [London?] Printed. M. DC. XXIV. | 4to, 23 unnumbered leaves. Sig. A in three, and B-F in fours. L. 78364

The oration ends on the verso of sig. D<sub>4</sub> with "Finis." On the next page begins, "An Adioynder of Svndry Other Particular Wicked Plots and Cruell, Inhumane, Perfidious; yea, Vnnaturall practises of the Spaniards," which fills seven leaves, and is signed at the end "S. O." The final leaf contains a prayer in ten lines, and the word "Finis," verso blank. See Hazlitt's "Collections and Notes," i. 396, where a copy is described with the words, "Written by Tho. Wood," in a contemporary hand on the title.

This is a collection of Scott's separately printed tracts with a general title and preface prefixed. The first piece, "Vox Populi," was reprinted for this edition, but most of the others appear to be the same editions that were first issued separately. All except the first four are described under their respective titles, supra. The portrait of the author, engraved by C. de Pas, is inscribed, "Thomas Scottvs Geographvs et Theologvs Anglvvs," with the following verses below :

"Quæ Draco, quæ Magellanus potuere Britannis Præstare, hic Scottvs præstitit ingenio."

This "extraordinary collection of twenty-five scarce and secretly printed Tracts in one volume, with the very rare portrait by C. de Pas and a general title page ... which is probably unique, as no other copy is known with it," bound in morocco, super extra, gilt edges, with the arms of P. A. Hanrot stamped in gold on the sides, was sold with the library of the Rev. Samuel Prince, M.A., of Bonsall, Derbyshire, by auction, by Messrs. Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge, in London, 11th December, 1865, and three following days, No. 1082 of the catalogue, for £9. Lowndes mentions a copy, perhaps the same one, as having been sold with the library of Dr. Bandinel at Sotheby's, in London, August, 1861, for £7.

This little book is a lamentation for the sake of the country. The writer imagined that the prevalence of sin had called down the vengeance of Heaven upon our land, which was shown in many instances of punishment, as "strange diseases, not suited formerly to the pure and serene air of our climate (whither strangers were wont to have recourse to recover their desired health). Not only with the infectious small-pox, but with burning and spotted fevers, shaking agues," etc. For a memoir of Scottow (born 1615, died 1698), and an account of this book see the Massachusetts Historical Society's Collections, second series, vol. iv., pp. 100-104.

SEABURY. A Discourse on II Tim. iii. 16. Delivered in St. Paul's and St. George's Chapels, in New York, on Sunday the 11th of May 1777. By Samuel Seabury, M.A. New York: Printed by Hugh Gainé. 1777. 8vo. 78568

"The above sermon was written several years ago, and was preached in Trinity Church, in this city, in April, 1773. No person, who has ever felt that partiality which most men have for their own productions, will be surprised at the author's saying he was pleased with the composition. However, neither his vanity, nor the impotency of friends, have been the cause of its publication. Upon preaching it lately in St. Paul's and St. George's Chapels in this City, it fell under the censure of some who heard it; the author hopes only because it was misunderstood. He has therefore taken the liberty to send it into the world to speak for itself, and recommends it to the protection of the candid and reasonable part of mankind, to whose judgment, however it may make against him, he shall ever pay the greatest regard."—New York Gazette and Weekly Mercury, July 7, 1777.

[SEABURY and WILKINS.] A View of the Controversy between Great Britain and her Colonies : including a Mode of determining their present Disputes finally and effectually ; and preventing all future Contentions. In a Letter to the Author of A Full Vindication of the Measures of Congress from the Calumnies of their Enemies. By A. W. Farmer. New-York printed: London reprinted: Richardson and Urquhart, MDCCLXXV. 8vo, pp. (4), 90. s. 78581

"The revolutionary measures advocated by the Congress were far from receiving general acceptance, and in New York they elicited some sharp and vigorous controversial pamphlets. It was the general opinion at the time that Samuel Seabury was the author of two of the ablest of these tracts, though the claims for their authorship are now divided between Seabury and Isaac Wilkins, while each may have assisted the other in a joint production which rendered at this time the name of a 'Westchester Farmer' famous."—WINSOR'S Narrative and Critical History of America, vi. 104.

The authorship of the pamphlets signed "A. W. Farmer," or a Westchester Farmer, was claimed by Dr. Seabury in the draft of a petition addressed by him to Commissioners Coke and Wilmot, in England, about the year 1783, in which he declares, that "your Memorialist ... published a pamphlet entitled Free thoughts on the proceedings of the Congress at Philadelphia very soon after the first Congress broke up, & had shown by their adopting the Suffolk resolves that they had entered into a deep scheme of rebellion which pamphlet he addressed to the Farmers & landholders, intending to point out in a way accommodated to their comprehension, the destructive influence that the measures of the Congress if pursued, would have on the farmers & the laboring part of the Community. That as no pamphlet at that period seems to have given the republicans more uneasiness than this, several answers to it were published; which obliged your memorialist to write another pamphlet in support of it called the Congress Canvassed, previous to which he had published an Address to the Merchants of New York, in which he had endeavored to convince them of the evil tendency of the non-importation & non-exportation agreements & that their happiness & true interests depended on their connection with & subordination to G. B.—That at the Meeting of the next assembly he published an alarm to the Legislature of New York—in which he endeavored to show that by adapting & establishing the proceedings of the Congress as most other assemblies had done, they would betray the rights & liberties of their constituents, set up a new sovereign power in the Province & plunge it into the horrors of rebellion & civil war. ... These several pamphlets were published under the signature of A. W. Farmer, & that they were written by your Memorialist, he refers to the certificates of Dr. M. Cooper, hereunto annexed, & to the testimony of Dr. Chandler & I[nglis].” See the article by D. Williams [i. e. B. F. De Costa] on “The Westchester Farmer,” in the “Magazine of American History,” vol. viii., pp. 117–122; also Ford’s “Bibliotheca Hamiltoniana,” Nos. 1–3.

Mr. Kelby has called my attention to several articles in the early newspapers which relate to the controversy concerning the authorship of these pamphlets. The writer of two articles in Shepard Kollock’s “New York Gazetteer” of January 3d and 17th, 1786, signed “A Whig,” states explicitly that Bishop Seabury “was the author of that infamous pamphlet, called A. W. Farmer, which has been the ruin of thousands,” and that he “did, in the day of British power and insolence, often boast of that performance as a very meritorious one, and as a feather in his cap, which justly entitled him to the sinicure which he enjoyed at Richmond.” The first article was replied to in the “Daily Advertiser” of January 12th, 1786, by “Episcopus,” who denies that Seabury was the author, and adds: “it is almost universally known, that the said pamphlet was published by the then representative of West-Chester County [i. e. Isaac Wilkins], who is now lamenting his destiny in the regions of Nova Scotia.” In Solomon Southwick’s “Newport Mercury” for November 21, 1774, is an article signed “A True American,” in which the A. W. Farmer pamphlets are referred to, and are “said to be the production of a couple of incendiary, prostituted, hireling scribblers, not far from Hell Gate, in the province of New York.”

These pamphlets were also attributed to Isaac Wilkins alone, by many of his friends and contemporaries. Mr. John Pintard, the founder of the New York Historical Society, and a scholar well acquainted with the literary and political history of his time, was also of this opinion, as appears from a memorandum in his handwriting on one of these pamphlets, now in the library of the Society. In the biographical sketch of Wilkins, by his grandson Gouverneur Morris Wilkins (Sprague’s “Annals of the American Pulpit,” vol. v., p. 464), it is stated that “he was the reputed author of several political pamphlets, which rendered him odious to the Whigs. One, ‘The West Chester Farmer,’ has been claimed by a late historian as the product of another pen; but the claim, whatever may be the result, does honour to the authorship. But, until some documentary evidence disturbs traditions, and the testimony of other writers, the question is not at issue.” They are also attributed to Wilkins by Mr. Sabine, in his “Loyalists of the American Revolution.”

See Arber's "Transcript of the Registers of the Company of Stationers of London," vol. 1, p. 215. "Most of the existing information regarding the celebrated adventurer Thomas Stutely, or Stukeley, is to be found in a note to Dyce's Peele's Works, II. 82. The name of Robert Seall, who subscribes the ensuing ballad, is new in poetical bibliography; and if he wrote anything else, it has not been recovered. John Allde must have printed this broadside at an early date, because Stuteley's voyage to Florida was one of his first enterprises. The parallel between Stuteley and Columbus, near the end, is singular."—COLLIER.

There are two editions of the text, one in Latin and French (as in the Astor Library copy), and the other in Latin and Dutch. The natural history of America is well represented. Some of the plates exhibit the figures as large as life. Some copies contain colored plates, of which there are two kinds, those colored by the original publisher, which are the most desirable, and those colored in Paris in the early part of the present century.

Deep in the Vale old Moniack rolls his Tides,
Romantick Prospects crown his reverend Sides;
Now thro' wild Grotts, and pendent Woods he strays,
And ravish'd at the Sight, his Course delays.
Silent and calm—now with impetuous Shock
Pours his swift Torrent down the steepy Rock;
The tumbling Waves thro' airy Channels flow,
And loudly roaring, smoke and foam below.

The | Secret Workes | Of a Cruel | People | Made manifest; | Whose little finger is become hea- | vier then their persecutors the bishops Loyns, who have | set up an Image amongst them in

New-England, which all|that will not bow down unto, and worship, must under-|go all such Sufferings as can be invented and in-|flicted by the hearts and hands of such men |whose tender mercies are cruel. |Which may be seen in this short relation of their cru-|elty, which was presented to the Parliament, and now re-|commended to the consideration of all sober people, that |they may see how these professors of New-England have |lost their former tenderness, who fled from persecution, |and now are become the chiefest of Persecutors. |Whereunto is annexed a Copy of a Letter which came|from one who hath been a Magistrate among them, |to a friend of his in London, wherein he gives an|account of some of the cruel Sufferings of the|people of God in those parts under the|Rulers of New-England, and their un-|righteous Laws. | London, Printed in the Year 1659. | Small 4to, title, verso blank, and pp. 1-26. A-C in fours, and another c in two, besides the title. P. 78753

Extremely rare. The tract consists of six different articles, the first of which ends on page 15 with the initials of George Fox. The second paper, "To the Town of Boston in New-England," is signed John Rous, and ends on page 18. The other parts are not signed. The "Copy of a Letter which came from one who hath been a Magistrate among them, to a friend of his in London," mentioned in the title, was written by James Cudworth of Scituate. This letter was also printed in another tract of the same year, for which see Rous (J.), and others, Vol. xviii., No. 73483. The title given by Stevens (Nuggets 1982) was from a copy with a manuscript title-page, which may account for some slight variations in the wording and line divisions.

The folded leaf opposite page 213 contains the "Pater Noster et Ave Maria in Lingva Paragvariensi Hispanica et Latina." The letters of the two Jesuits were written in 1691-1695. "These very interesting narratives contain full accounts of the manners and customs, natural productions, scenery, rivers, and mountains, climate, etc. of Paraguay, as amusingly described as in the pages of Dobrizhoffer. The volume opens with a letter from Antonius Sepp, descriptive of the voyage from Spain, the landing at Buenos Ayres, and of the many Indian villages subject to the Society's rule, quaintly finishing by recording the great gluttony of the aborigines. Then follows a second letter from the same, with further particulars of the voyage out, the perils and discomforts of which are graphically detailed, and the variations of the compass recorded, as also an account of the fertile province of Japeyu. Then there is a description of a voyage of 200 miles (equal to 800 English miles) up the river Uruguay, followed by other voyages performed together by MM. Sepp and Boehm, with Saint Pierre-like descriptions of the scenery and inhabitants, introducing us to their marriage rites and ceremonies, the fair sex enjoying the privilege of making the first advances, and the respective ages of fourteen or fifteen, and sixteen or seventeen being considered by the priesthood the fittest period of life for both to marry. The peach forests are described, and their origin accounted for in an amusing episode of Moorish history, the poisonous fruit of Africa, acclimated on the soil of Spain, 'for the destruction of whose inhabitants the peach-stones had been broadcast over the land by the wily Moors, having, under Providence, become an innocent and health-giving luxury to the Christians.'"

SEPULVEDA. Democrates secundus, sive de iustis belli causis ... Romæ. [1550.] 4to. 79176

It is not certain that this book was ever printed. On the 25th of August, 1549, Sepulveda wrote from Valladolid to his friend Antonio Agustin, auditor of the Rota at Rome, requesting his advice about the printing of a work treating of the justice of waging war on the Indians, the manuscript of which was sent with the letter. The reply of Antonio Agustin, dated April 1, 1550, was in favor of its publication. In another letter, dated on the first of October of the same year, and from which the above title is taken, Sepulveda mentions the little book ("libellus") by name as having already been printed at Rome, with the approbation of three learned prelates, "qui tres in excuso libello memorantur," and he complains of the persecution which it had brought upon him.

It is probable, however, that the book referred to in the above-named letters was merely the Apologia (No. 79175), which was printed on the first of May, 1550, and "ad cuius calcem legitur in primava editione: Hoc opus iudicio doctissimorum et gravissimorum dominorum Philippi Archinti, Sanctissimi Domini nostri Papæ Vicarii, et Ægidii Foscararii, magistri sacri Palatii ac Antonii Augustini auditoris Rotæ examinatum et approbatum, et multorum aliorum eruditissimorum virorum consensu in Urbe commendatum impressum fuit Romæ," etc. The substance of the Democrates secundus is contained in the Apologia. "Las Casas himself says that they were both one and the same work with a new title." In 1554, Sepulveda wrote of the Democrates secundus: "a me nondum impressione edito." It is also referred to as follows in the monitum added by the Madrid editors of the collected works, which contain annotations by one Fernandez Franco, who was a contemporary of Sepulveda: "Este libro se mando que no se imprimiese, y se quitaron los impresos por mandado del rey, de que recibio gran ofensa este autor." For a fuller discussion of this question, and references to other authorities, see HARRISSE's "Bibliotheca Americana Vetusissima," pp. 451-455, from which the above account has been extracted.

"The learned men of Spain were not all of the Bishop of Chiapa's way of thinking as regarded the rights and claims of the Indians. A certain Doctor Juan Ginés Sepulveda, principal Historiographer to Charles the Fifth, a man of great renown for learning in those days, had recently written a treatise entitled, Democrates Secundus, sive de Iustis Belli Causis, in which he maintained, in a very able manner, the right of the Pope and of the Kings of Spain to subdue by war the inhabitants of the New World. Sepulveda called his new work Democrates Secundus, because he had previously written a book which was entitled Democrates: a Dialogue on the Honourable Nature of Military Study. The Democrates Secundus was also written in dialogue; and in it, Leopold, a German, made a formal statement, which probably was sanctioned by the voice of public opinion throughout Europe at that time, that the Spaniards had, without sufficient attention to the laws of justice, piety, and Christianity, waged war against the innocent Indians. Sepulveda, under the name of Democrates, gave a full reply to his friend Leopold's accusation of the Spaniards. Sepulveda's work met with no favour, even in the quarter where he might reasonably have expected that it would be sure to be well received. He submitted his treatise to the Council of the Indies in the first instance; but they would not allow him to print it. He then appealed to Charles the Fifth, praying that his work should be laid before the Great Council of Castile. The Emperor consented. It was in 1547, when the Court and the Great Councils of Spain were at Aranda de Duero, that the royal order from Charles arrived. Las Casas had also joined the Court at that time, and then learnt what was the nature of this treatise written by Sepulveda, upon which there was so much question. As may be imagined, he made the most determined and vigorous opposition to Sepulveda's views,—to use his own words, 'discovering and bringing to light the poison of which the work was full.' The Council submitted the Democrates Secundus, for examination, to the Universities of Alcalá and Salamanca. The decision of these learned bodies was unfavourable to Sepulveda; and the permission to print was still refused. Sepulveda turned to Rome, where he had a great friend, who was auditor of the Rota; and under his auspices, the work, or rather an Apology for the work, containing the substance of it, was printed at Rome in 1550. Charles the Fifth forbade its introduction into Spain. The author thereupon drew up a version in Spanish of his Apology, and did what he could to put that in circulation."—HELPS'S Spanish Conquest in America, iv. 318-319.

Nicolas Antonio ("Bibliotheca Hispana Nova," i. 703-704) gives the following account of the book: "De Justis belli causis contra Indos suscepti, sive, Democrates alter, editus olim fuit Romæ paucis admodum exemplaribus, procurante Antonio Augustino, Romanæ tunc Rotæ auditore, ut auctor ipse ait *Epist. lxxix. & lxx. qui & ante hanc editionem multis descriptis exemplaribus, Complutum Salmanticamque missis, evulgatus fuerat, referente ipso Epist. xci. qui & sequenti ad Petrum Serranum, contentam in eo sententiam adversariis ipsis invidissimis non solum Romæ & per omnem Hispaniam, sed etiam per omnem Christianum orbem doctis omnibus non pertinacibus se probavisse gloriatur, scripta scilicet ea, quam habemus vulgarem inter alia opera, Apologia pro hoc libro. A translation into Spanish of No. 79178, infra, made by Antonio Barba, the secretary of cardinal Quiñones. It is in the form of dialogues between three persons, Leopoldo Aleman, Alonso de Guevara, and Democrates, who discuss the subject of the justice of war. The book is sometimes included in collections of "Americana," because it illustrates the opinions of Sepulveda which finally brought on his famous dispute with Las Casas.

This is the first Democrates. It does not relate to America, but is desirable in an American collection as a companion volume for the Apologia. According to Harrisæ, it was reprinted at Paris, by Simon de Colines, 1541, 8vo, "cum aliis auctoris operibus;" and inserted in Vol. iv., pp. 225-328, of the Madrid reprint of Sepulveda's works. The Spanish version is described under No. 79177, supra.

This edition contains a biography of Sepulveda by Andreas Schott. At page 423 begins his celebrated essay, "Apologia pro Libro de Iustis Belli Causis," connected with the controversy between the writer and Las Casas, wherein the former attempts to justify the cruel treatment inflicted by the Spanish government on the Indians. Pages 442-445 contain the "Decretum et indultum Alexandri sexti super expeditione in barbaros Noui Orbis quos Indos uocant."

[SERGEANT.] A Prayer before Sermon. | Oe Taupaunnu-meauk pohtum-|mauwaus ... . [Boston? 174-?] 18mo, pp. 23. A and B in sixes. W. 79196

In the language of the Muhhekaneok or Stockbridge Indians. Appended to No. 79195. The headings of the different prayers are in English, as follows: A Prayer before Sermon, pp. 1-8; A Prayer after Sermon and Baptism, pp. 8-10; A Prayer to be used at the Sacrament, &c., pp. 10-14; A Prayer for the Sick, pp. 15-16; For the Afflicted, pp. 16-17; Thanks returned for Recovery, &c., pp. 17-18; A Prayer after Sermon, pp. 18-21; A General Prayer, pp. 22-23.

Mr. Sergeant made his first visit to the Mohegan or Muhhekaneok Indians of Housatannuk in October, 1734, and preached to them by the aid of an interpreter. In the following year he became their permanent teacher, and in February, 1736, he was able, by the help of interpreters, to compose some prayers in Indian, which he read to the natives at morning and evening, and on other occasions. In April and May, the new town of Stockbridge was laid out for these Indians, and to this place Mr. Sergeant removed in January, 1737. In August of the same year he began to preach in Indian, and "had translated Dr. Watt's first Catechism into the Indian Tongue, that the Children might understandingly read and learn it." In a letter dated January 22, 1747, in which Mr. Sergeant gives an account of his labors among the Indians, he writes that he had "gain'd such an Acquaintance with their barbarous Language as to converse with them in it; and with a little Assistance, in my Study, from an Interpreter, to preach to them, and to read Prayers, which I have composed for the publick Worship." Before his death in July, 1749, he had also translated into the Indian language the following portions of the old testament: "The Account of the Creation, of the Fall of our first Parents, of God's calling Abraham, of his Dealings with the Patriarchs and the Children of Israel, of the Prophecies concerning the Coming of Christ, &c. the four Evangelists, the Acts of the Apostles, and all the Epistles."

Of all these works, the prayers described above are probably the only portions that were printed. They have been identified as Mr. Sergeant's translation by Dr. J. Hammond Trumbull. There are copies of the two tracts (sewed together) in the libraries of the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester, and of the Essex Institute at Salem, Mass. Two or three other copies are also known.

SETTLE (D.) A true reporte of | the laste voyage into the | West and Northwest regi- | ons, &c. 1577. worthily atchie- | ued by Capteine Frobisher of | the sayde voyage the first | finder and Ge- | nerall. | With a description of the people | there inhabiting, and other | circumstances | notable. | Written by Dionyse Settle, one of | the companie in the sayde voy- | age, and seruaut to the Right | Honourable the Earle | of Cumberland. | Nil mortalibus arduum est. | Imprinted at Lon- | don by Henrie Middle- | ton. Anno. 1577. | Sm. 8vo, 24 unnumbered leaves. A in four, B and C in eights, D in four. BM., J.C.B. 79341

Of extreme rarity. On the verso of the title is a poem entitled, "A Rythme Decasyllabically, upon this last luckie voyage of worthie Capteine Frobisher, 1577." This is followed on the next leaf by a dedicatory address, "To the Right honourable and my singular good Lord, George Earle of Cumberland, Baron Clifford, Lord of Skipton and Vesseie: his humble seruaut Dionyse Settle, wisheth the fulnesse of all perfect felicitie," which ends on the verso. The address "To the Christian Reader" fills the next two leaves. The text is in twenty leaves. Two editions of this book were printed in the same year, as appears from the following note, which is written in the British Museum (Grenville) copy:

"This very rare account of Frobisher's Second Voyage by Settle, who accompanied him, is different from that by Beste, who also accompanied him, and who published in 1578 all the three voyages of Frobisher. I have seen a second edition of Settle's True reporte of the same year 1577, with some slight alterations in the same number of twenty-four leaves, but with different signatures, the second having eight leaves each of the three letters, A. B. C. whereas the first has four signatures, A. B. C. D. of which the first and last have only four leaves each. In B vi. of the first edition instead of 'Richd. Coxe gunner,' the second edition in B. ii. has 'Jackman and A. Dier masters mates.' To B vii. of the first Edition after 'God's visitation,' is added at B iii. of the second edition an account of their taking possession of the land, and of authority given by Frobisher to Fenton, Yorke and Best his Lieutenant during his absence up the country. The Text of the first edition is resumed in the second edition at the words 'whoso maketh' which begin the verso of B. viii. of first Edition, a sentence is added at B v. of the second ed. to say that Best left in the natives tent a letter to the men that he had lost the year before: to the following sentence at line 10 of the same page of first ed. are added in the second ed. 'Master Philpot and all the gentlemen went ashore determined to see.' I have stated in the above passages the only differences which occur in the two editions of the same year. That there were two had escaped the notice of Bibliographers."—Bibliotheca Grenvilliana, p. 657.

SETTLE. A True Reporte of Martin Frobisher's Voyage; 1577, by Dionyse Settle. London, 1577. [Providence: Reprinted. 1868.] Sm. 4to, pp. 63. L. 79342

Fifty copies printed, at the expense of Mr. John Carter Brown, for private distribution. Although it is an exact reprint in roman letter, it does not correspond page for page with the original edition, as is stated by Mr. Bartlett in the catalogue of the Brown library. The book is also reprinted in Hakluyt's collection of voyages, and in Sir Egerton Brydges's "Restituta," vol. II., pp. 202–225. See Mr. Bartlett's description in the "New England Hist. Gen. Register," xxiii. 363.

D. LXXVIII. | Pour Anthoine Chup-|pin. | Sm. 8vo, 40 unnumbered leaves. A–E in eights. Folded plate of the natives. J.C.B., L. 79343

Corrected title of No. 5652, Vol. II. It is a translation from the English into French by Nicholas Pithou, sieur de Cham-Gobert, of Settle's "true report," with some changes and additions. The title, verso blank, is followed by the dedicatory preface in nine pages, addressed to Monsieur de Haut. The next five pages contain an elegy and sonnet. The narrative of the voyage is in thirty-two leaves. The folded woodcut plate is entitled, "Le Portraict des trois Sauvages admenez en Angleterre, leurs habits, armes, tentes & bateaux." According to Hazlitt (Collections and Notes, 1889, p. 167), "The 'description of the purtrayture and shape of those strange kinde of people,' &c., was separately licensed to John Allde, to be printed in English, Jan. 30, 1577–8, but it does not seem to be known." Antoine Chuppin printed an edition of Lery's work on Brazil in 1578, with the name Rochelle in the imprint. Most of his later publications, however, appear to have been printed at Geneva.

A in six, B-E in eights, and F in six. Folded Woodcut. J.C.B., L. 79345

The woodcut represents a Greenlander in a canoe, throwing darts at wildfowl, with other natives in their costume. It is entitled, "Pictura vel delineatio hominum nuper ex Anglia advectorum, una cum eorum armis, tentoriis, & naviculis." This is the first Latin edition of Frobisher's voyage in 1577. It is translated from the French version of Settle's narrative. The dedicatory preface by Freigius, the translator, begins on the recto of the second leaf and ends on the recto of the ninth. The preface of the French translator Nicolas Pithou follows, with the "Heroicum" and "Elegiacum," in nine pages. The narrative of the voyage begins on the fourteenth leaf and ends on the thirty-fifth. The last nine leaves contain extracts from Jovius, Longolius and Antonius Lullus. Corrected title and note of No. 25994, Vol. VII. Our No. 5053, Vol. II., is probably intended for the same edition, or for the one following.

The work gives "a very fair account of the various portions of the globe. The author availed himself of the opportunities he had for consulting foreigners regarding foreign affairs, and he has not disdained to acknowledge the assistance thus received. The maps though little more than outlines of the several countries, and very rude in their execution, yet give a tolerably good notion of the relative position and magnitude of the nations indicated."—WYLIE's Notes on Chinese Literature, p. 53.

A translation of the portion relating to the United States of America is printed in the "Historical Magazine," new series, vol. II. (1867), pp. 18-21, preceded by the following explanatory statement: "It appears that Seu-Ki-Yu was, from 1844 to 1850, Governor of Fuh-Kien. During that time he wrote and published, in the Chinese language, a work on Universal Geography, giving an account of the establishment of America by Washington. For this publication, so favorable to the Western Powers, some of which were then in collision with China, and so favorable especially to the United States, Seu-Ki-Yu was dismissed from office by the Emperor Hien-Fung, on his accession to the throne of China in 1850. His work and his sacrifices for the truth of history were made known to the Government at Washington by the late Chargé of the United States at Pekin, Mr. Williams. Through the efforts of the legation, the Imperial Government reversed its sentence of proscription against Seu-Ki-Yu, and recalled him into its employment as a member of the Foreign Office of the Government. The Secretary of State presented him with a portrait of Washington."

69. [Boston. 1695.] 8vo, 1 page. B. 79442

An epitaph in verse. Two editions were printed, one of ten, the other of twelve lines. The authorship is ascribed to Sewall in T. Prince's manuscript catalogue of his New England Library.

SEWALL. Phænomena quædam | Apocalyptica | Ad Aspectum
Novi Orbis configurata. | Or, some few Lines towards a description of the New | Heaven | As It makes to those who stand upon the | New Earth | By Samuel Sewall sometime Fellow of Harvard
Colledge at | Cambridge in New-England. | ... | Massachuset; |
Boston, Printed by Bartholomew Green, and John Allen, | And are to be sold by Richard Wilkins, 1697. | 4to, pp. (8), 60. A in six, B-P in twos. B., L. 79443

The title, verso blank, is followed by a dedicatory epistle "To the Honorable, Sir William Ashurst Knight," etc., in two pages; another dedication "To the Honorable, William Stoughton Esq. Lieut. Governour," etc. in three pages; and a metrical version of Psalm 119, verses 7-10, on one page. The book itself is an essay on the prophecies in Revelation which were supposed by some commentators to relate to America. "The learned and pious author labors 'to expose the antick fancy of America's being Hell'—the 'Sedem Inferorum' to which Christ descended,—or even the Apocalyptic Gog and Magog; but he honestly confesses (p. 40) that 'there is so much Confusion in the discourses upon this subject, that a man cannot tell woben he is in Heaven and woben he is in Hell,' and that 'so near an approach to, so compleat a resemblance of Hell, was not to be found in rerum natura' as in America."—J. H. TRUMBULL.

Mr. Sewall inclines to the opinion that the Indians are descendants of the Israelites. On page 47 he refers to the sentiments of Mr. Nicholas Fuller concerning the new world as follows: "This learned Man, agreeable to his great Ingenuity, endeavours to do Columbus the Justice, as to eternize his Honour, by engraving his Name upon the World of his Discovery. It is every where called America: but according to Truth, and Desert; men should rather call it Columbina, from the magnanimous Heroe Christopher Columbus a Genuese, who was manifestly Appointed of God to be the Finder out of these Lands." An account of the "Three American Martyrs" put to death in Brazil by Nicholas Durandus Villagagnon in 1555, is given on pp. 11-16.

SEWALL. Phænomena quædam | Apocalyptica | Ad Aspectum Novi Orbis configurata. | Or, some few Lines towards a description of the New | Heaven | As It makes to those who stand upon the | New Earth | By Samuel Sewall A.M. and sometime Fellow of Harvard | College at Cambridge in New-England. | The Second Edition. | ... | Massachuset; | Boston, Printed by Bartholomew Green: And sold by | Benjamin Eliot, Samuel Gerrish & Daniel Henchman. 1727. | 4to, pp. (8), 1-64; The Fountain Opened, pp. 1-24. A-Aa in twos. B., L. 79444

The second part (pp. 1-15) has the following heading: "The | Fountain Opened: | Or, | The Admirable Blessings plentifully to | be Dispensed at the National | Conversion of the Jews. | By the late Reverend & Learned Samuel Willard, M.A. | Teacher of a Church in Boston, N. E. and Vice-President | of Harvard College. | The Third Edition." The appendix which follows (pp. 16-24) is signed at the end: "Midweek, Nov. 1. 1727. Three days after the Earthquake. Samuel Sewall." The first edition of Mr. Willard's treatise entitled "The Fountain Opened," was printed in 1700. The second edition, which appeared in 1722, was the first to contain Mr. Sewall's appendix, dated Sept. 21, 1722.

To the Lenox copy are appended Solomon Stoddard's "Answer to Some Cases of Conscience," Boston, 1722, and the leaf of verses dated "Wednesday, January 1, 1701," described under No. 79449, infra. Another copy containing the same additional pieces was sold at the Brinley sale (No. 860) in 1879. The copy in the Boston Public Library also contains the leaf of verses.

SEWALL. Proposals | Touching the Accomplishment | of | Prophecies | Humbly Offered. | By Samuel Sewall, M.A. and sometime | Fellow of Harvard College at Cambridge | in New-England. | ... | Massachuset; | Boston, Printed by Bartholomew Green. 1713. | 4to, pp. (2), 12. B., M. 79445

This tract is usually accompanied by the leaf of verses dated "Wednesday, January 1, 1701," described under No. 79449, infra.

[SEWALL.] The Selling | of | Joseph | A Memorial. | ... | [Colophon:] Boston of the Massachusetts; | Printed by Bartholomew Green and John Allen, June, 24th. 1700. | 4to, pp. 3. M. 79446

Probably unique. In 1737 it was reprinted, with the addition in the heading of the words "By the Hon'ble Judge Sewall in New England," as a part of Benjamin Lay's tract, "All Slave-Keepers that keep the Innocent in Bondage, Apostates," pp. 199-207. See Vol. x., No. 39465. From this work it was reprinted in one of Dr. George H. Moore's articles in the "Historical Magazine" for June, 1864, vol. viii., pp. 194-197; and again in his "Notes on the History of Slavery in Massachusetts," pp. 83-87. It was also reprinted in the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society for 1863-64, pp. 161-165, from the original edition presented to the Society by the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop. The above title has been furnished by Mr. Julius H. Tuttle.

On the 13th of April, 1706, Mr. Sewall wrote to John Higginson, of Salem, "It is now near Six years agoe since I printed a Sheet in defence of Liberty. The next year after, Mr. Saffin set forth a printed Answer. I forbore troubling the Province with any Reply; until I saw a very Severe Act passing against Indians & Negros, & then I Reprinted that Question, as I found it stated & answered in the Athenian Oracle: which I knew nothing of before last Autumn was twelve moneths, when I accidentally cast my Eye upon it. Amidst the Frowns & hard Words I have met with for this Undertaking, it is no small refreshment to me that I have the Learned, Reverend & Aged Mr. Higginson for my Abetter. By the Interposition of this Brest-Work, I hope to carry on & manage this Enterprise with Safety & Success." See Dr. Moore's "Notes on the History of Slavery in Massachusetts," pp. 90-94. For Saffin's reply to "The Selling of Joseph," see Vol. xviii., No. 74871. See also No. 79440, supra.

SEWALL. Tuesday, November, 25. 1707. | The Reasons of my withdrawing my Vote from what was Pass'd in Council, | upon Saturday, November the First, relating to an Address offered to Her | Majesty, Sign'd Nath. Higginson, &c. | ... | Samuel Sewall. | Boston N. E. Printed December 10, 1707. | Folio, 1 page. N.

This copy of the original broadside is bound in a volume of the "Boston News Letter," following No. 189, for Nov. 24 to Dec. 1, 1707. The "Reasons" were reproduced in "The Deplorable State of New-England," London, 1708, reprinted in the "Sewall Papers," Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., fifth series, vol. vi. Title furnished by Dr. George H. Moore.

[SEWALL.] Upon Mr. Samuel Willard, his first | coming into the Assembly, and Praying, | after a long and dangerous Fit of | Sickness; November 21. 1700. at | 3. in the Afternoon, being a Day of | Publick Thanksgiving. | [Boston. 1700?] 8vo, 1 leaf.

A copy of the second edition of Samuel Willard's book entitled "The Fountain Opened," Boston, 1722, in the Prince collection, Boston Public Library, is preceded by two leaves which appear to have been printed separately. The above title, and three stanzas of four lines each, fill the verso of the first leaf, recto blank. The second leaf verso blank, relates to the book which follows, and begins with the words: "N. The 106-127, & 166 Pages | of this Book, do more especially treat | of the calling of the Jews." The last paragraph consists of the invocation: "Come! Our Jesus! and save thy People from their sins." Below is the date, "Fifth Day; May 12th, 1720." The first leaf contains the following manuscript note by Mr. Prince: "S. Sewall Esq<sup>r</sup>—and Prin<sup>d</sup> at Boston. 1700."

A poem in six stanzas of four lines each, the first and last of which are as follows:

Once more! Our God, vouchsafe to Shine.
Tame Thou the Rigour of our Clime.
Make haste with thy Impartial Light,
And terminate this long dark Night.

* * * * *

So Asia, and Africa,
Europa, with America;
All Four, in Consort join'd, shall Sing
New Songs of Praise to CHRIST OUR KING.

This is usually found at the end of one of Sewall's other tracts. See Nos. 79444 and 79445, supra, notes.

In Haven's list there is entered under 1725, a "2d Ed. New York: Printed by Wm. Bradford," with a note stating that it was advertised in the Philadelphia American Weekly Mercury. It was, without doubt, the second London edition described above

SEWEL. The | History | of the | Rise, Increase, and Progress, | Of the Christian People called | Quakers: | Intermixed with Several | Remarkable Occurrences. | Written Originally in Low-Dutch, and also Tran- | slated into English, | By William Sewel. | The Third Edition, Corrected. | Philadelphia: | Printed and Sold by Samuel Keimer in Second Street. | M DCC XXVIII. | Folio. L. 79604

Collation: 8 preliminary leaves, comprising the title, verso blank, the dedication in two pages, and the preface in eight pages; text, pp. 1-694; index, pp. (16). Signatures A in four, b in two, B-T in fours, T-Z, Aa-Zz, Aaa-Zzz, Aaaa-Zzzz, and Aaaaa-Zzzzz (including Wwww), in twos, to the end of page 532; Aaaaa[a]-Zzzzz[z], Aaaaaa-Ssssss, ‡, ††, and †††, in twos, and †††† in one, from page 533 to the end.

The title, dedication, preface, and pages 1 to 532, are from Keimer's press; pages 533 to 694, and the sixteen pages of index, were printed by Benjamin Franklin and Hugh Meredith, who had recently opened their new printing office. The portion printed by them, which begins with signature Aaaaa (wrongly printed Aaaaa), can be easily distinguished from the rest by the difference of the type. Dr. Trumbull's statement in the Brinley catalogue (No. 3315), that the title and dedication, and pp. 457 to the end were printed by Franklin, is therefore not quite correct. See Mr. Hildeburn's "Issues of the Press in Pennsylvania," vol. 1., pp. 92, 93.

"This work, written in Dutch and printed at Amsterdam in 1717, was translated into English by the author and published at London in 1722. A few copies finding their way to America, the Philadelphia Meeting on learning the edition was exhausted, proposed to Andrew Bradford that he should reprint it. Bradford delayed giving a definite answer until after he had arranged with his aunt Tacy Sowle, the English publisher of the work, for 700 copies of the second edition, and then declined. The Quakers then applied to Keimer who readily undertook the work at a much lower price than had been offered Bradford. It proved an unfortunate venture for him as he had not the capital to carry on so large a work, and although he proceeded but slowly with it and received considerable advances of money from the Quakers, as well as subscriptions for 500 copies, but became involved in debt by his purchases of type and paper. The work was begun in 1725, and was not finished till the latter part of 1728, and then only by giving out part of it to Franklin and Meredith."—HILDEBURN.

The following account of Franklin's share in the work is given in his autobiography: "Breintnal particularly, procur'd us from the Quakers the printing forty sheets of their history, the rest being to be done by Keimer; and upon this we work'd exceedingly hard, for the price was low. It was a folio, pro patria size in pica, with long primer notes. I compos'd of it a sheet a day, and Meredith worked it off at press; it was often eleven at night, and sometimes later, before I had finished my distribution for the next day's work, for the little jobs sent in by our other friends now and then put us back. But so determin'd I was to continue doing a sheet a day of the folio, that one night, when, having impos'd my forms, I thought my day's work over, one of them by accident was broken, and two pages reduced to pi, I immediately distributed and compos'd it over again before I went to bed."

The following remarks of Mr. Nathan Kite on this account are quoted by Mr. Hildeburn: "Franklin was at that very time writing against Keimer, and doing everything to injure him in his power; and with that want of candour, characteristic of a mean mind, does not acknowledge in his memoirs to whom their new office was indebted for its first work. No one would guess from his account that the patronage came from the poor, despised, caricatured Keimer."

Mr. Brinley's perfect copy, which is now in the Lenox Library, sold for $40. Mr. Haven in his list mentions an edition: Boston, Sold by E. Phillips, Charlestown, 1728, which is probably the same as the above.

SHAFFORD (J. C.) Narrative of the Extraordinary Life of John Conrad Shafford, known by many by the name of the Dutch Hermit, Who for the last 50 years has lived a secluded and lonely life, in a log hut, in a remote part of the village of Dundee, (Lower Canada,) where he died on the 24th of April last, (1840,) at the age of between 80 and 90. Shafford early emigrated to Canada, and was induced first to prefer a lonely life in consequence of being deprived of an only child, a beloved daughter, who, when but 15 years of age, was taken prisoner and carried off a captive by the Indians, and who, although she was three months after redeemed by her afflicted father, yet in consequence of the most shameful and beastly treatment she had received from the merciless savages, she expired a wretched victim of their barbarity, three weeks after her liberation. The particulars of the Captivity and dreadful sufferings of this unfortunate young female, may be found herein detailed . . . *New-York: C. L. SHARP. A memorable Letter|from the|venerable Granville Sharp to Benjamin Franklin. | [n. p. n. d.] 8vo, 1 page. H.

On slavery. Dated: London, January 10, 1788.

SHARP. A|Representation |of the| Injustice and Dangerous Tendency |of| Tolerating Slavery; |or of| admitting the least Claim|of|Private Property in the Persons of Men, |in England. |In Four Parts. |Containing, I. Remarks on an Opinion given in the year 1729, by the (then) Attorney General and Solicitor General, concerning the Case of Slaves in Great Britain. II. The Answer to an Objection, which has been made to the foregoing Remarks. III. An Examination of the Advantages and Disadvantages of tolerating Slavery in England. The latter are illustrated by some Remarks on the Spirit of the Plantation Laws, occasionally introduced in Notes, which demonstrate the Cruel Oppression, not only of Slaves, but of Free Negroes, Mulattoes, and Indians, and even of Christian White Servants in the British Colonies. IV. Some Remarks on the ancient Villenage, shewing, that the obsolete Laws and Customs, which favoured Oppression, cannot justify the Admission of the modern West Indian Slavery into this Kingdom, nor the least Claim of Property, or Right of Service, deducible therefrom. |By Granville Sharp. | London: |Printed for Benjamin White, (No. 63) in Fleet-|Street, and Robert Horsefield, (No. 22) in |Ludgate-Street. |MDCCLXIX. | 8vo, pp. (4), 167. "The author recites his adventures as a soldier in the Revolution, and subsequent residence in Pennsylvania. He was among the first settlers that came to Fort M'Intosh; was a soldier under St. Clair, and dug the first well in Cincinnati, at Fort Washington. Owing to his success in finding water, he was known among the early settlers as the 'Water Witch.' The plates,—a curiosity in themselves—represent 'John R. Shaw as a Prodigal,' 'John R. Shaw as a soldier,' etc."—THOMSON'S Bibliography of Ohio. Priced by Robert Clarke & Co. in 1875, $15.

Shau-wau-nowe Kesauthwau. Shawanoe Sun. [Shawanoe Mission. 1835 to 1837 or 1838?] 16mo? 79980

"March 1st, 1835, the first number of a semi-monthly newspaper, printed at the Shawanoe mission house, in the Shawanoe language, was issued. This was the first newspaper ever published exclusively in an Indian language. It was entitled Shau-wau-nowe Kesauthwau, [Shawanoe Sun.] It was small, only a quarter sheet, was written upon the new system, and edited by Mr. Lykins. The disadvantages under which it was prepared for the press were great, and the labor considerable; which accounts for its diminutive size."—McCoy's History of Baptist Indian Missions, p. 486. In another place Mr. McCoy adds: "There was issued, until late difficulties occasioned a suspension, a small monthly paper, of only a quarter sheet, edited by Mr. Lykins, entitled 'Shawanowe Kesauthwau'—Shawanoe Sun."

One hundred copies of each were printed on small paper in octavo, and ten copies on large paper in quarto. In 1865 Dr. Shea issued the prospectus of a "French-Illinois Dictionary," supposed to be the work of Rev. Joseph Ignatius Le Boulanger, from which the following extract is made: "As it is liable to perish by any untoward accident, I have obtained permission to print one hundred copies. The dictionary will form over five hundred pages, in fine type, double column, similar to that used in the French-Onondaga Dictionary issued by me. It will be issued in four parts, of about one hundred and twenty-five pages each, at $5 per part. Ten copies will be printed on large paper, at $10 per part." Only one signature, however, containing pages 1-8 with the heading "Dictionnaire," was ever printed. The undertaking was interrupted by the owner of the manuscript, who requested its return, and not long after made the statement that it had been lost or stolen. After his death the manuscript was sold by auction in New York, March 6th, 1884, for $240. It is now in the library of the late John Carter Brown, at Providence.

[SHEBBEARE (John), M.D., b. 1709, d. 1788.] An | Answer | to a Pamphlet, call'd The | Conduct | of the | Ministry | Impartially Examined. | In which it is proved, | that neither Imbecillity nor Ignorance | in the M——r have been the Causes of | the present unhappy Situation of this | Nation. | By the Author of the Four Letters | to the People of England. | ... | London: Printed for M. Cooper, at the Globe, Pater-noster-Row. | M DCC LVI. | 8vo, pp. 100.

Relates to the inefficient conduct of the ministry in the disputes with France, especially in America, on the Ohio and elsewhere, under Washington, Braddock, etc. For this and later publications, the doctor was fined and put in the pillory. A change of government brought him a change of sentiment and a pension. See "Monthly Review," xv. 673, and Stevens's "Nuggets," vol. III., No. 3371.

[SHEBBEARE.] An | Answer | to the | Printed Speech | of | Edmund Burke, Esq; | Spoken in the | House of Commons, April 19th, 1774. | In which | His Knowledge in Polity, Legislature, Humankind, | History, Commerce and Finance, is candidly examined; | his Arguments are fairly refuted; the Conduct of Ad- | ministration is fully defended; and his Oratoric Talents | are clearly exposed to view. | Addressed to the People. | London: T. Evans. M.DCC.LXXV. 8vo, pp. iv, 222. 80039

"This pamphlet contains so many slanderous invectives, coarse witticisms, vulgar obscene allusions, and scandalous epithets, that exalted as the author himself has formerly been, his answer falls beneath all notice."—Monthly Review, LII. 551. See also Vol. III., No. 9291.

SHEBBEARE. An Answer to the Queries, contained in A Letter to Dr. Shebbeare, Printed in the Public Ledger, August 10. Corrected title of No. 2760, Vol. 1., and No. 36304, Vol. 1x.

SHEBBEARE. An Essay on the Origin, Progress and Establishment of National Society; in which The Principles of Government, the Definitions of physical, moral, civil, and religious Liberty, contained in Dr. Price's Observations, &c. are fairly examined and fully refuted: Together with A Justification of the Legislature, in reducing America to Obedience by Force. To which is added an Appendix on the Excellent and admirable in Mr. Burke's second printed Speech of the 22d of March, 1775. ... By J. Shebbeare, M.D. London: Printed for J. Bew. MDCCLXXVI. 8vo, pp. (4), 212. + Second Edition. [Ibid.] MDCCLXXVI. 8vo, pp. (4), 212. 80042

"This performance of Dr. Shebbeare contains many tenets repugnant to the principles of all free governments; reasoning often founded on misrepresentations and untruths; language, frequently intemperate, foul and opprobrious; and humor, often coarse, low, and indelicate."—Monthly Review, LV. 240.

“Dr. Shebbeare distinguished himself as a political writer in the reigns of George II. and George III. Commencing as an apothecary at Bristol, he went to Paris, where he obtained the degree of M.D. On his return to England he began his literary career by writing on a variety of subjects. But he was brought more conspicuously to public notice by a series of ‘Letters to the People of England,’ the most successful of his works, though it subjected him to a prosecution. On the publication of his ‘Third Letter’ in 1756, orders were issued for his arrest; but it was not till January, 1758, after the ‘Sixth Letter’ made its appearance, that he was taken into custody; when a ‘Seventh Letter,’ then in the press, was likewise seized. He was tried for the alleged libel, and being convicted, was sentenced to pay a fine of £5, be imprisoned three years, and to stand in the pillory. On his release from confinement under the reign of a new sovereign, and the administration of Lord Bute, he obtained a pension, for which he defended the conduct of government in the American war. His apostasy from the popular cause consigned him to contempt, and he died almost forgotten in 1788 at the age of seventy-nine.”—GORTON’S Biographical Dictionary.

“He deserves to be remembered as a respectable name in literature, were it only for his admirable ‘Letters on the English Nation,’ under the name of Battista Angeloni, a Jesuit.”—BOSWELL’S Life of Johnson.

The plates are as follows: (1) An Indian of y<sup>e</sup> Island of Chiloe in pursuit of a Bull, p. 106; (2) The posture of a Sea-Lion, etc., p. 253; (3) An Indian of y<sup>e</sup> Southermost parts of California, etc., p. 404; (4) Two Californian Women, etc., p. 404.

"Two histories were published of this voyage. This, written by Captain Shelvocke, was intended by him as a vindication of his conduct, having been accused of piracy and embezzlement. The other was written by one of Shelvocke's officers, William Betagh [see Vol. II., No. 5057], who was roughly treated in Shelvocke's narrative, and, in return, wrote with the design of exposing Shelvocke. Both narratives are written with spirit."—BURNEY.

the Lord. | ... | Cambridg | Printed by Samuel Green. 1663. | 4to, pp.
(22), 26. C., M., W. 80202

Following the title is "A Preface to the Reader" of 18 pages, by Thomas Shepard and two pages of anagrams, with verses, on Shepard, by John Wilson. The letter "was written by the Author's own hand: and not three months before the time of his Dissolution, and sent to one who, before the receipt thereof, was not so clear in the point of Infant-Baptisme, but was hereby recovered, and stablished in the truth." Three copies were in Mr. Brinley's sale, Nos. 862, 6220, and 7799.

A second edition, Cambridge, 1669, is mentioned in Haven's list of ante-revolutionary publications, but its existence is doubtful.

Contents: Title, verso blank; the epistle dedicatory, "To the Right Honourable the Lords & Commons Assembled In High Court of Parliament," in six pages, signed by Stephen Marshall, Jeremy Whitaker, Edm. Calamy, William Greenhill, John Downam, Philip Nye, Syd. Symptomson, William Carter, Tho. Goodwin, Tho. Case, Simeon Ashe, and Samuel Bolton; the epistle to the reader, "To the Godly and well affected of this Kingdome of England," etc., in six pages, signed by the same twelve; text, pp. 1-38. This includes, "Conclusions and Orders made and agreed upon by divers Sachims and other principall men amongst the Indians at Concord, in the end of the eleventh moneth, An. 1646," pp. 4-5; "The Order made last Generall Court at Boston the 26. of May, 1647. concerning the Indians, &c.," pp. 15-16; "The Letter of Mr. Eliot to T. S. concerning the late work of God among the Indians," dated from "Roxbury this 24. of Septemb. 1647," pp. 16-29.

This is the third of the series of tracts relating to the propagation of the gospel among the Indians of New England. It was reprinted in the "Collections" of the Massachusetts Historical Society, third series, vol. iv., pp. 25-67, and again as follows:

SHEPARD. The Clear Sunshine of the Gospel Breaking Forth upon the Indians in New-England. By Thomas Shepard. New York: Reprinted for Joseph Sabin. 1865. 4to, pp. (22), 56, and covers. L. 80206

"Sabin's Reprints, Quarto Series. No. x." Two hundred copies printed on small paper, and fifty copies on large paper.

[SHEPARD.] The | Day-Breaking, | if not | The Sun-Rising | of the | Gospell | With the | Indians in New-England. | ... | London, | Printed by Rich. Corrected title of No. 22146, Vol. vi. On the verso of the title is the following address "To the Reader. Hee that pen'd these following Relations, is a Minister of Christ in New England, so eminently godly and faithfull, that what he here reports, as an eye or an eare witness, is not to be questioned; Were he willing his name should bee mentioned, it would be an abundant, if not a redundant, Testimoniall to all that know him. Nathan. Warde." This notice has been supposed by some writers to refer to John Eliot, and the tract is accordingly sometimes ascribed to him. The evidence seems to indicate, however, that Thomas Shepard was the minister referred to, and that he wrote the relation. It is the second of the series of tracts relating to the propagation of the gospel among the Indians of New England. It was reprinted in the "Collections" of the Massachusetts Historical Society, third series, vol. iv., pp. 1-23, and again as follows:

[SHEPARD.] The Day Breaking if not the Sun Rising of the Gospel with the Indians in New England. New York: Reprinted for Joseph Sabin. 1865. 4to, pp. (6), 32, and covers. L. 80208

"Sabin's Reprints, Quarto Series. No. ix." Two hundred copies were printed on small paper, and fifty copies on large paper. Corrected title of No. 22147, Vol. vi.

SHEPARD. The First Principles. See "Certain Select Cases," 1648, 1650, and 1695, supra, notes; "Theses Sabbaticæ," 1655, infra, note; and "Three Valuable Pieces," 1747, infra.

SHEPARD. Four | Necessary Cases | of | Conscience | Of daily Use. | Resolved in a letter of Mr | Thomas Shepheard, To a | Dear Friend of his; Now Publi- | shed by that Friend, for the good of | others; together with an addition | of something of his own, exer-|cised in his private Family,| By R. H. | Wherein you may behold a Pastours Love | and a Fathers Care. | ... | London, Printed, by J. L. for C. Meredith, | at the Crane in Pauls Church-yard. | [1651 ?] 24mo, pp. (24), 1-101, (21), 1-133, (4). A in eight (AI lacking), B-M in twelves, and N in four (including a final blank leaf). L. 80209

Following the title is the epistle dedicatory in ten pages, the errata on one page, verso blank, and the address to the reader in ten pages. On the verso of page 101 begins another dedication which fills twelve pages, and is followed by an address "To the Christian Reader" in eight pages. At the end is another address "To the Reader" in four pages.

"Dedicated by R. H. 'To his dear and only Son, R. H. now a Student of ... Grayes Inne.' 'To the Reader' (10 pp.) contains a brief memoir of Shepard. Shepard's letter occupies pp. 1-101. It is followed by a Discourse on John 6. 27, by R. H. (pp. 133), with a dedicatory epistle to his 'two daughters Margaret and Elizabeth.'

"The names of the daughters and their ages ('the elder drawing neer to sixteen years,' and the younger 'now thirteen years,') sufficiently identify R. H., the 'dear friend' to whom Shepard's letter was addressed, with Richard Harlakenden, Esq., of Earls-Colne in Essex, the elder brother of Roger Harlakenden who came with Mr. Shepard to New England and became a member of his church in Cambridge. Their sister Mabel married John Haynes, governor of Massachusetts and first governor of Connecticut. During Mr. Shepard's ministry at Earls Colne the Harlakenden family had been his warm friends, and had done all in their power to protect him from the persecution which finally drove him from England. Richard Harlakenden's first wife was Alice, daughter of Sir Henry Mildmay, by whom he had the son Richard to whom this volume is dedicated. By his second wife, Mary Denny, he had three daughters, Margaret, Mary, and Elizabeth: Mary died young. The others were about sixteen and thirteen years of age, respectively, in 1651—which fixes, nearly, the date of publication.

"The volume must be very rare. It seems to have escaped the notice of English and American bibliographers, of the editors of Shepard's works, and of all his biographers. It is not named in the catalogues of the Prince, Am. Antiquarian Society's, Harvard College, or Mass. Hist. Society's libraries, nor in any other which the writer of this note has consulted."—J. H. TRUMBULL.

SHEPARD. Meditations and Spiritual Experiences. 1747. See "Three Valuable Pieces," infra.

SHEPARD. *Meditations | and | Spiritual Experiences | of | Mr. Thomas Shepard, | Late worthy and dear Pastor of the Church of Christ | in Cambridge, in New-England, from November 25, | 1640—to December 27. 1641. Prefixed is "Some Account of Mr. Shepard, by a Minister in New-England," signed Thomas Prince. The book was also reprinted, Glasgow, 1847, 12mo.

SHEPARD. Nevv Englands | Lamentation | for | Old Englands present errors, and di- | visions, and their feared future desolations | if not timely prevented. | Occasioned by the increase of Anabaptists, | Rigid Separatists, Antinomians and Familists. | Together with | Some seasonable remedies, against the infection of those | errors, prescribed | in | A Letter sent from Mr Thomas Shepard, sometime of Im- | manuell Colledge in Cambridge, and now Minister of | the Gospell at Cambridge in New England, to | a godly friend of his in Buers in Suffolk. | Imprimatur, James Cranford. | London, | Printed by George Miller, MDC.XLV. | 4to, pp. (2), 6. B., C., L. 80211

On the verso of the title is a notice dated "Buers, March 19," and signed "John Thornbecke." Shepard's letter begins on page 1, and ends on page 6 with the date, "Cambridge, Decemb. 10. 1644." Rev. H. M. Dexter, in his bibliography of Congregationalism, No. 1023, enters the title of an edition dated 1644, which is doubtless an error. The Thomason copy in the British Museum, which seems to be the one referred to, gives the date of publication as March, 1645.

The address "To the Reader, And Especially to the Inhabitants of Cambridge in New-England," is signed by "Jonathan Mitchel." Another address "To the Reader," is signed by "William Greenhill, Edmund Calamy, John Jackson, Simeon Ash, William Taylor."

A supposed edition of 1659 is mentioned in Allibone's Dictionary, probably on the authority of the Library Catalogue of the Massachusetts Historical Society. The copy belonging to that institution, however, is of the 1660 edition, but it lacks the portion of the imprint containing the year, which is torn off. The date of 1659 is found at the end of the preliminary address to the reader.

John Eliot's translation into the Indian language of Massachusetts of Shepard's "Sincere Convert," revised and amended by Grindall Rawson. The translation was made as early as 1664, but was not printed until 1689. Mr. Eliot also translated Shepard's "Sound Believer" into Indian, but it was probably never printed.

The title-leaf of the Boston Public Library copy is lacking, but is included in the number of preliminary pages given above. The above title is copied from the sale catalogue of Mr. Almon W. Griswold's library (1876), No. 768, where the date is printed 1643, probably by mistake.

Improved title of No. 64069, Vol. xv. The preface begins: "Kind Reader. From the favourable Reception of my two last Years Almanacks, I have again ventured upon a third," etc. In the calendar for September is the following interesting note on the change from old to new style:

"Kind Reader, You have now such a Year as you never saw before, nor will see hereafter: The King and Parliament of Great-Britain having thought proper to enact, That the Month of September, 1752, shall contain but 19 Days, which will shorten this Year 11 Days, and have extended the same throughout the British Dominions, so that we are not to have two Beginnings to our Years, but the first of January is to be the first Day and first Month of the Year 1752: Eleven Days are taken from September, and begin 1, 2, 14, 15, &c. Be not much astonished, nor look with Concern, dear Reader, at such a Deduction of Days, nor regret as for the Loss of so much Time; but take this for your Consolation, That your Expences will perhaps appear lighter, and your Mind be more at Ease: And, what an Indulgence is here, for those who love their Pillows, to lie down in Peace on the 2d of this Month, and not perhaps awake, or be disturb'd, 'till the 14th in the Morning! And Reader, this is not to hasten the Payment of Debts, Freedom of Apprentices or Servants, or the coming-to Age of Minors, but the Number of Natural Days in all Agreements are to be fulfilled. All Church Holidays and Courts, are to be on the same nominal Days they were before; but Fairs (after the 2d of September) alter the nominal Days, and so seem to be held eleven Days later. Now, Reader, since 'tis likely you may never have such another Year, nor such another Almanack, I would advise you to improve the one for your own Sake, and I recommend the other, for the Sake of Your Friend, Poor Job."

[SHERMAN?] Remarks | on a Pamphlet, | entitled | "A Dissertation on the political Union | and Constitution of the Thirteen United | States of North America." | "By a Citizen of Philadelphia [i. e. Pelatiah Webster]." | With some brief Observations, | Whether all the Western Lands, not actually purchased | or conquered by the Crown of Great-Britain, antecede-|dent to the late Cession, made to the Thirteen United | States of North-America, ought not to be considered | as ceded to the Thirteen States jointly --- And whether all | the confiscated Estates of those People, by some termed | Loyalists, are to be considered as forfeited to the States | in which they were resident, or to all the States included | in the Confederation. | By a Connecticut Farmer. | [New Haven?] Printed, M,DCC,LXXXIV. | 8vo, pp. 43. c., s., w. 80405

Improved title of No. 69397, Vol. xvi. This seems to be the tract referred to by Pelatiah Webster, in one of his letters, as follows: "Mr. Sherman of Connecticut has replied to my pamphlet, being displeased with my views concerning the western lands. I enclose you a copy of his pamphlet." For the above extract I am indebted to Mr. Paul Leicester Ford, who has also supplied me with material for the following paragraph.

A series of five articles relating to the proposed adoption of the Federal Constitution was printed in The New Haven Gazette for November 15th, 22d, 29th, December 6th and 20th, 1787. The first article is unsigned, but the four others are published over the pseudonym of "A Countryman." In Mr. Ford's file of this newspaper, the former owner, Mr. Simeon Baldwin, who resided in New Haven at the time of publication, has written at the bottom of the first three of these articles the name of Roger Sherman as author. Two other articles, on reforming law suits, appeared in the same gazette for November 6th and 27th, over the same signature, under both of which Mr. Baldwin has written Sherman's name. In the numbers for December 18th and 25th, 1788, are two more articles on the Constitution, each signed "A Citizen of New Haven." These also are attributed by Mr. Baldwin to Roger Sherman. A correspondence between John Adams and Mr. Sherman concerning these last two articles is printed in Adams's Works, vi. 427-442. Mr. Ford has announced his intention to reprint the seven articles on the Constitution, with the correspondence, in a work to be entitled: "Essays on the U. S. Constitution, published during its discussion by the people, 1787-8."

It is evidently to one of these articles that James Madison refers in a letter to Edmund Randolph, dated April 12th, 1789, in which he says: "a paper which will probably be republished in the Virginia Gazettes, under the signature of a citizen of New Haven, unfolds Mr. Sherman's opinions." This reference has been supplied by Hon. George F. Hoar, who also writes that "Mr. Sherman is undoubtedly the author of the Report of the Connecticut Delegation in the Convention which framed the Constitution, which is to be found in the later editions of Elliot's Debates."

"An extraordinary case, under the Fugitive Slave Act. Wellington is located thirty-six miles southwest of Cleveland; Oberlin is nine miles north of Wellington. In January, 1856, a negro slave, called John, was missing from a plantation in Mason county, Kentucky. In August, 1856, a friend of the owner recognized John at Oberlin, and with the aid of friends from Kentucky arrested him with the intention of taking him back. They took him to Wellington, where he was rescued by a large body of persons from Oberlin and Wellington—hence the title. Thirty-seven of the rescuers were indicted by the State, and confined for many months in the Cleveland jail, while the trial progressed. They were finally acquitted and great was the rejoicing. The account of the affair is contained in 280 double column, solidly printed pages."—THOMSON'S Bibliography of Ohio.

SHIRLEY [Walter]. A Narrative of the Principal Circumstances relative to the Rev. Mr. Wesley's late Conference, held in Bristol, August the 6th, 1771, at which the Rev. Mr. Shirley, and others, his Friends, were present. With the Declaration then agreed to by Mr. Wesley, and Fifty-Three of the Preachers in Connexion with him. In a Letter to a Friend. By the Rev. Mr. Shirley. The Second Edition. Bath: Printed by W. Gye, in Westgate-Street, for T. Mills, Bookseller, in King's-Mead-Square. ... 1771. 8vo, pp. 24. BA., M. 80543

This elicited the following reply:

An Impartial View, Of a Narrative of the Principal Circumstances Relative to The Rev. Mr. Wesley's late Conference, Held at Bristol, August the 6th, 1771, &c. With the Declaration then Agreed to by Mr. Wesley, and Fifty Three of his Preachers. By the Rev. Mr. Shirley. In which the Reader is presented with the Minutes of the Conference, the preceeding Year, which gave great offence, as containing Justification by Works, and overturning the Gospel of Christ; Lady Huntingdon's, and Mr. Shirley's Letters to Mr. Wesley, on the Occasion:—And the Declaration which satisfied the Objectors. The Author's chief Design is to shew, That this Famous Declaration, declares nothing in Favor of Justification By Faith Only, but is perfectly consistent with Justification and Salvation by Works:—That Mr. Wesley, never intended it as a Recantation of the offensive Minutes; and Consequently, that the Joy that hath been occasioned by it, and Mr. Shirley's Narrative, on the other Side of the Water, hath been only rejoycing in a Thing of nought. The authorship of this pamphlet is sometimes attributed to General Shirley himself. It was probably written, however, by his secretary, William Alexander, afterwards called Earl of Stirling. It relates to the war in America, the attack on Niagara, etc. See "Monthly Review," xviii. 182; Tudor's "Otis," chap. iv.; and Duer's "Life of William Alexander, Earl of Stirling."

Improved title of No. 6739, Vol. II. This is the first issue of the original edition.

A Short Narrative of the horrid Massacre in Boston, perpetrated In the Evening of the Fifth Day of March, 1770. By Soldiers of the XXIXth Regiment; which with the XIVth Regiment were then Quartered there: With some Observations on the State of Things prior to that Catastrophe. Printed by Order of the Town of Boston, and Sold by Edes and Gill, in Queen-Street, And T. & J. Fleet, in Cornhill, 1770. 8vo, pp. 48, Appendix, 1-87. 80669

The second issue of the original edition, containing the subsequently printed "Additional Observations to a Short Narrative," following the Narrative, and continuously paged therewith. These additions were also printed in a separate pamphlet, for which see Vol. II., No. 6741, and note.

"When a part of the copies of this Narrative had been sent to England, a restraint was laid upon the publishing of the remaining copies by a vote in Town Meeting, lest it might be thought to give an undue bias to the minds of the Jury. This delay of a few days gave the committee time to add a few more facts. Accordingly the first paragraph of page 37 was rewritten, and pages 39 to 48 added to the Narrative. The pagination of the Index was corrected, and pages 85 to 88 added at the end of the Appendix."—STEVENS.

Dated June 1, 1725.

"The Report and Order in Council alluded to, grew out of complaints made by Governour Shute, of Massachusetts, against the House of Representatives of that Province. Seven charges were preferred for invading, and encroaching upon, in various ways, the prerogative of the King. One of these charges was for 'Voting a Publick Fast throughout the Province, a thing never attempted by their predecessors.' The Council decided in the Governor's favor, giving their opinion that 'the said House of Representatives have unlawfully assumed to themselves Powers which don't belong to them, and in an unwarrantable manner encroached upon His Majesty's authority.'—J. R. BARTLETT. See also Rich's "Bibliotheca Americana Nova," vol. 1., p. 37.

In verse; followed by "A Caution to prevent Scandal." It is signed on page 4: "Benjamin Bosworth of New-England. In the 81st Year of My Age, 1693." Mr. Brinley's copy (No. 730) sold for $17, and is now in the Harris Collection of American Poetry in the Library of Brown University at Providence, R. I. A copy is also mentioned in the new "Catalogue of Printed Books" in the British Museum, with the press-mark 11623. a. 60.

"The author was a planter of Hingham, Mass., as early as 1635. His son, of the same name, married a daughter of Secretary Nathaniel Morton, author of the Memorial. The special signs of apostasy by which the poet's spirit was darkened were periwigs and top-knots:—

'When Perriwigs in Thrones and Pulpits get,
And hairy Top-knots in high Seats are set;
Then may we Pray, have Mercy Lord on us,
That in New-England it should now be thus!'"

SIGUENZA (Gabriel). Epopeya Póstuma de D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Góngora ... Mexico. 1701. 4to. 80969

Title from Beristain. The author was a nephew of D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Góngora SIGUENZA (Jose). Versos Sáficos-Adónicos en elogio de la Concepcion Inmaculada de María. ... Mexico. 1683. 4to.

Title from Beristain.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA (Carlos de), b. 1645, d. 1700. Descripción de la bahia de Santa María de Galve, alias Panzacola, de la Mobila y del Rio Misisipi ... Mexico. 1694. Folio. 80971

The exploration, of which the above work is an account, was undertaken in 1693 by the general of the fleet, Don Andrés de Pez. Sigüenza accompanied the expedition in his official capacity as Royal Cosmographer. Beristain describes the work as in manuscript, and gives the title thus: "Descripción del Seno de Sta. Maria de Galve, alias Panzacola, de la Mobila y del Rio Misisipi." In one of the copies of Beristain belonging to the Lenox Library is a manuscript note opposite this title, in the handwriting of the former owner, Señor José Fernando Ramirez, as follows: "Impresa en folio, segun expresa Cardenas en su Ensayo cronologico para la Historia de la Florida, Introduc. p. 36. En mi poder el m.s. original firmado. 26 f<sup>o</sup> folio." In the sale catalogue of the library of Señor Ramirez (London, 1880), it appeared as "Reconocimiento de la Bahía de Panzacola en Florida. ms. of the 17th century in folio, 26 leaves, signed by the author." It brought £6 15s, and was purchased in the name of "Harris."

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Las Glorias de Querétaro ... Mexico, por Calderon. 1668. 4to. 80972

This edition, like the one following, was perhaps accompanied by the piece in verse entitled, "Primavera Indiana." See No. 80982, infra. Title from Beristain, who does not mention the following edition:

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Glorias de Queretaro en la Nueva Congregacion Eclesiastica de Maria Santissima de Guadalupe, con que se ilustra; y en el sumptuoso templo, que dedicò à su obsequio D. Juan Cavallero, y Ocio Presbytero, Comissario de Corte del Tribunal del Santo Oficio de la Inquisicion. ... [Vignette of a horse.] En Mexico. Por la Viuda de Bernardo Calderon. IXI. DC. LXXX. [1680.] 4to, title and 4 other prel. leaves, text pp. 80; Primavera Indiana, (13) leaves. J.C.B. 80973

The appended verses have the following title: "Primavera Indiana Poema Sacro-Historico. Idea de Maria Sanctissima de Guadalupe de Mexico. Copiada de Flores." No imprint. For other editions of this poem see No. 80982, infra.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Glorias de Querétaro, en la fundacion y admirables progresos de la ... congregacion eclesiástica de presbiteros seculares de Maria Santissima de Guadalupe de México, con que se ilustra, y en el suntuoso templo que dedicò a su obsequio el Br. D. Juan Caballero y Ocio, presbitero comisario de Corte del Santo Oficio por la Suprema y General Inquisicion; que en otro tiempo escribió el Dr. D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Góngora, presbitero natural de Mexico, y Catedratico propietario de Matematicas en su Real y Pontificia Universidad: y que ahora escribe de nuevo El Br. D. Plans. BM. 80974

This edition is really a new work, having been rewritten and greatly enlarged by the editor, Señor Zelaa é Hidalgo, who subsequently published the following supplement:

Adiciones al libro de las Glorias de Queretaro, por Jos. M. Zelaa e Hidalgo ... Mexico. 1810. 4to.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Los Infortunios de Alonso Ramirez ... Mexico, por Calderon. 1690. 4to. 80975

"Este Alonso Ramirez era natural de S. Juan de Puerto Rico. Fué apresado por unos piratas en los mares de Filipinas, desde donde librándose prodigiosamente, navegó solo y sin derrota hasta las costas de Yucatan, habiendo dado casi una vuelta al globo."
—BERISTAIN.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Libra Astronomica y Philosophica. ... Sacala à luz Seb. de Guzman y Cordova. ... Mexico, por Calderon. 1690. 4to, pp. (24), 188. Woodcuts. 80976

Beristain also mentions another work of a similar character by Sigüenza, which was not printed. It was entitled: "El Belerofonte Matemático contra la Quimera Astrologica de D. Martin de la Torre."

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Manifiesto filosófico contra los Cometas ... Mexico. 1681. 4to. 80977

"Dió motivo á este opúsculo el cometa que comenzó á verse en México el mes de Noviembre de 1680. Reinaba todavía en el vulgo de los filósofos la opinion de que estos fenómenos eran fatal anuncio de alguna desgracia pública; y nuestro autor como mejor físico y astrónomo, y crítico ilustrado, trató de despojar á los cometas del imperio que tenían sobre los tímidos y de refutar las vulgaridades. Pero contra dicho manifiesto cortaron las plumas tres filo—matemáticos de este reino. El primero fué D. José Escobar Salmeron, doctor médico, á quien no quiso contestar nuestro Sigüenza. El segundo fué el P. Eusebio Kino, jesuíta aleman, que acababa de llegar á México. A este contestó D. Carlos con el siguiente opúsculo:—Libra Astronomica."—BERISTAIN. See No. 80976, supra.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Mercurio Volante con la noticia de la recuperacion de las Provincias de Nuevo Mexico conseguida por D. Diego de Vargas, Zapata, Yluxan Ponze de Leon, Governador y Capitan General de aquel Reyno. Escriviola por especial orden de el Excelentissimo Señor Conde de Galve Virrey, Governador, y Capitan General de la Nueva-Espana, &c. ... [Vignette of a horse.] Con licencia en Mexico: En la Imprenta de Antuerpia de los Herederos de la Viuda de Bernardo Calderon, año de 1693. 4to, title and pp. 18. J.C.B. 80978

"Papel Periódico."—BERISTAIN. Señor J. F. Ramirez wrote the following note opposite this title in his copy of Beristain, which is now in the Lenox Library: "En mí poder, copia antigua. No esiste cjemplar impreso." The manuscript, however, does not seem to be mentioned in the Ramirez sale catalogue.

Ternaux (No. 1065) gives the title thus: "El Mercurio volante, con las noticias de la restauracion del Nuevo Mexico, por D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Gongora. Mexico, 1693. 4to."

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. El Oriental Planeta Evangélico ...
Mexico, por Benavidez. 1700. 4to. 80979

“Es un poema en elogio de S. Francisco Javier, escrito en 1668, y aprobado entónces por el Mtro. Fr. Antonio Monroí, rector del colegio de Portacæli, que fué despues general de los dominicos y murió arzobispo de Santiago de Galicia; pero se publicó muerto ya el autor.”—BERISTAIN.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Parayso Occidental, plantado, y cultivado por la liberal benefica mano de los muy Catholicos, y poderosos Reyes de España Nuestros Señores en su magnifico Real Convento de Jesus Maria de Mexico: De cuya fundacion, y progressos, y de las prodigiosas maravillas, y virtudes, con que exalando olor suave de perfeccion, florecieron en su clausura la V. M. Marina de la Crvz, y otras exemplarissimas Religiosas da noticia en este volumen D. Carlos de Sigüenza, y Gongora, Presbytero Mexicano. Con Licencia de los Ssuperiores. En Mexico, por Juan de Ribera, Impressor, y Mercader de libros. Año de MDC-LXXXIIII. [1684.] 4to. “Es la historia de la fundacion del monasterio de Jesus y María de México en las vidas de sus venerables religiosas.”—BERISTAIN. Priced by Trübner (Bib. Hisp.-Americana, 1870), £2 2s; Leclerc (Bib. Am., 1878, No. 1274), 150 francs. The Ramirez copy sold for £1 in 1880.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. La Piedad heróica de D. Fernando Cortes ... [Mexico? 16—?] 4to. 80981

“D. Cayetano Cabrera en su Escudo de Armas de Mexico: lib. 3, cap. 14, núm. 663, asegura que este opúsculo se imprimió.”—BERISTAIN.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Primavera Indiana. ... Mexico. 1662. 4to. 80982

Reprinted in 1668, and again in 1683, according to Beristain, who describes the contents as follows: “Es un canto en 77 octavas, en que pinta con todo el entusiasmo poético la aparición milagrosa de Ntra. Sra. de Guadalupe de Mexico.” The edition of 1668 was perhaps printed to accompany the same author’s “Glorias de Queretaro,” which was published in that year. The edition of 1683, mentioned by Beristain, is probably the same as the undated reprint which is appended to the 1680 edition of “Glorias de Queretaro,” No. 80973, supra.

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Primavera indiana, poema sacro de Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe, por D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Gongora. Mexico. 1668. 8vo. 80983

SIGÜENZA Y GÓNGORA. Trofeo de la Justicia Española en el Castigo de la alevosia Francesa que al abrigo de la Armada de Barlovento executaron los Lanzeros de la Isla de Santo Domingo, en los que de aquella nacion ocupan sus costas. ... En Mexico, por los Herederos de la Viuda de B. Calderon. 1691. 4to, pp. (8), 100. 80987

This work contains an exact and graphic account of the struggles of the Spaniards of St. Domingo against the attempts of the French to obtain possession of that island. The Ramirez copy, which contained on the title the autograph of Dr. Eguilara, sold for £8. The same copy was priced by Quaritch £10 10s in 1885.

Carlos Sigüenza y Góngora, according to Beristain, was one of the ablest scholars of New Spain, a poet, philosopher, mathematician, historian, antiquarian, and critic. "He studied mathematics and astronomy in his native city under the direction of his father, and in 1660 entered the Company of Jesus. In 1662 he published his first poem. He continued his mathematical and scientific studies, and in 1665 left the Jesuit order, being appointed chaplain of the hospital 'Amor de Dios.' There he became intimate with Juan de Alva Ixtlilxotchitl, who put at his disposal the rich collection of documents of his ancestors, the kings of Texcoco, and in 1668 Sigüenza began the study of Aztec history and the deciphering of the hieroglyphs and symbolical writings of the Toltecs. In 1681 he was appointed by Charles II. royal cosmographer and professor of mathematics in the University of Mexico, and in 1693 he was sent by the viceroy, Gaspar de Sandoval, to accompany Admiral Andres de Pez on a scientific exploration of the Gulf of Mexico. On his return he entered the Jesuit order again, and, after falling heir to Ixtlilxotchtli's collection of documents, gave the last years of his life in the retirement of the hospital to the completion of his works on ancient Mexican history."—Appletons' Cyclopaedia of American Biography.

Of the numerous works of Sigüenza in manuscript mentioned by Beristain, only a few have been preserved. Some of the titles in the following list are known only from the descriptions of Betancur, Florencia, Carreri, and Boturini. (1) Tratado sobre los Eclipses del Sol.—(2) Apologia del Poema intitulado: Primavera Indiana.—(3) Ciclografía Mexicana. "Obra de mucho mérito, en la cual por el cálculo de los eclipses y cometas de que hacían memoria los papeles de los Indios, ajustó Sigüenza exactamente sus épocas á las de Europa, y expresó el verdadero modo de contar sus siglos, años y meses. La tradujo al italiano Carreri, la leyó D. Sebastian Guzman, y la citan Pinelo y D. Nicolás Antonio."—(4) Historia del Imperio de los Chichimecas. "En ella se descubria el paso de los Indios del Asia á la América, conducidos por su gefe Chichimecatl, su primer establecimiento en el país de Anahuatl, el aumento de su imperio por los ulmecas, toltecas, acólhuas y culúas mexicanos. Habla de ella el mismo Sigüenza en el prólogo á su paraíso occidental: el citado Guzman asegura que estaba pronta para la prensa; y la mencionan Betancur, Pinelo y D. Nicolás Antonio."—(5) El Fénix de Occidente. "Es una disertación histórica, en que se propuso el autor resucitar de entre las cenizas de las antiguas tradiciones mexicanas al apóstol Santo Tomás, confirmando su predicación en esta América con las pinturas y poesías de los toltecas, teochichimecas, y mexicanos, que reconocieron por patriarca de su primitivo culto al Teotatzin Quazalcoatl, en cuyo nombre, vestido, doctrina y vaticinios hallaba Sigüenza el retrato, aunque borrado y confuso, de aquel santo apóstol." The original manuscript in the handwriting of the author, 50 leaves in folio, was in the possession of the late Señor J. F. Ramirez, in the sale catalogue of whose library it is entitled "El Fenix de la America." It was sold for £2 12s and is now in the Bancroft Library at San Francisco.—(6) Genealogía de los Reyes Mexicanos.—(7) Anotaciones criticas á las Obras de Bernal Diaz del Castillo, y P. Torquemada. Fragments of the original manuscript of this work, in the author's autograph, comprising 36 leaves in folio, were sold in the Ramirez collection for £5 7s 6d, being purchased for the Bancroft Library. The work relates to the first apostle of New Spain and to the Image of Guadalupe.—(8) Teatro de la Santa Iglesia Metropolitana de México.—(9) Historia de la Universidad de México.—(10) Tribunal Histórico.—(11) Historia de la Provincia de Tejas.—(12) Vida del Ven. Arzobispo de México, D. Alonso de Guevas Dávalos.—(13) Elogio fúnebre de la célebre Poetisa Mexicana, Sor Juan Inés de la Cruz.—(14) Tratado de la Esfera, en 200 fojas. "De todos estos hay noticia y constancia," says Beristain, "pero yo no he hallado ninguno de ellos. Mas en la biblioteca de la universidad de México he visto los siguientes:"—(15) Informe al Virey de México sobre la Fortaleza de S. Juan de Ulúa, "fecho á 31 de Diciembre de 1695. MS. en fol."—(16) Un Fragmento de la Historia antigua de los Indios con Estampas. "MS. en fol."—(17) Kalendario de los Meses y Fiestas de los Mexicanos. "MS. fol."—(18) Reduccion de Estancias de Ganado á Caballerías de Tierra, hechas sugun Reglas de Aritmética y Geometría. "MS. fol."

"Deben por último añadirse á estos escritos propios de D. Carlos de Sigüenza los otros originales ajenos que colectó en 28 volúmenes, y legó en su testamento al colegio máximo de S. Pedro y S. Pablo de los jesuitas de México, de los cuales en 1750, en que escribió su biblioteca mexicana el Illmo. Eguirra, solo existian 8. Y habian pasado á la pública de la universidad los libros de aquel colegio, de resultas de la expatriacion, ya no restan sino los fragmentos arriba expresados."—BERISTAIN.

Among the marginal annotations to Beristain, in the handwriting of Señor Ramirez, is the following title: Alboroto y Motin de los Indios de Mexico. Carta de D. Carlos de Sigüenza y Gongora, cosmógrafo del Rey en la N. E., Cathedrático de Mathematicas en la R<sup>l</sup>. Universidad y Capellan mayor del Hospital R<sup>l</sup>. del Amor de Dios de la Ciudad, en que da razon al Almirante D. Andres del Pes del Tumulto. "MS. de 40 fojas, fol. fechado en Mexico á 30 de Agosto de 1692. Esta firmado por Sigüenza, de cuya letra son tambien el titulo, el final y algunas enmiendas. En mi coleccion el original." At the sale of the Ramirez collection in 1880 this manuscript brought £4 4s, and was purchased by Mr. Stevens for H. H. Bancroft of San Francisco, in whose library it now is.

The plans are as follows: Affair at Quintin's Bridge, p. 26; Surprise of Rebels at Hancock's House, p. 28; Ambuscade of the Indians at Kingsbridge, p. 54; March of the Queens Rangers, p. 56; Plan of Oyster Bay, p. 62; Skirmish at Richmond, p. 112; The Landing at Burrell's, p. 132; Sketch of the Skirmish at Petersburg, p. 138; Sketch of the Action at Osburns, p. 140; Action at Spencer's Ordinary, p. 166.

The book was not published for sale, but for private distribution only. The date of printing is given in the editor's preface to the edition of 1844. According to Mr. Rich, its existence was almost unknown until a copy turned up in the Chalmers sale in 1841. The Field copy sold for \$30; the Menzies copy (measuring on the leaf  $10\frac{1}{2}$  by  $8\frac{3}{4}$  inches), \$51; the Murphy copy, \$35; the Barlow copy (measuring  $11\frac{1}{16}$  by  $8\frac{3}{4}$  inches), \$155. Priced by Quaritch in 1885, £10.

A copy containing the original colored drawings of the plans, sixteen in number, and with manuscript notes on the margins by Gen. Sir Henry Clinton, was sold with "a further portion of the library of the late Colonel Henry Clinton, of Earlsbury Park," at Sotheby's in London, March, 1884 (No. 816), for £44. It was purchased by Mr. Quaritch, who priced it in his general catalogue for July, 1885 (No. 29711), at £55. Nine of these drawings are said to closely resemble the engraved maps, the tenth (Sketch of the Skirmish at Petersburg) being on a different scale. The additional drawings comprise: Skirmish at Croswick's, Retreat from Gens. Clinton and Morgan, Plan of Post at Great Bridge, Position of Rangers at North Castle, Point of Fork, and Plan of R. Delaware below Philadelphia. "The drawings are by Lt. G. Spencer, or copies by him of sketches by Lt.-Col. Simcoe, and Lts. Allans and J. Stratton."

Now first published, with a Memoir of the Author and other additions. New-York: Bartlett & Welford. 1844. 8vo, pp. xvii, (2), 13-328. 10 Plans. BA., L. 81135

Edited by Silvanus Miller, Jr. Twenty-five copies of this edition were printed on large paper, with the maps colored. "The operations detailed occurred in the vicinity of New York City, in West-Chester county, Long Island, Staten Island, in various parts of New Jersey, the neighbourhood of Philadelphia, Germantown, &c., in North and South Carolina, in Virginia, at the time of Arnold's invasion, and through the whole subsequent movements in that state, till Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. The memoir of the author, and some other additions as appendix, increase the attraction, interest and value of the whole volume."

SIMCOE. Lieut.-General Simcoe understanding that the translation of the Duke de Liancourt's travels has been much circulated, thinks it not improper to print an extract from a letter of his to the printer, Mr. Phillips, in answer to a very civil communication received from him respecting that work. This extract will elucidate the purport of the communication, and at the same time account for Lieut.-General Simcoe's speech, on the closing of the first parliament of the province of Upper Canada, being inserted in the appendix of that work. He adds a paper delivered by him, when he was very lately under orders for foreign service, to the Honorable Rufus King, Minister from the United States. [Colophon:] Trewmans, printers. Exeter. [1799?] 4to, pp. 18.

Title furnished by Mr. James Bain, chief librarian of the Public Library at Toronto, from a copy belonging to that institution.

[SIMCOE.] Remarks on the Travels of the Marquis de Chastellux, in North America. London, Printed for G. and T. Wilkie, in St. Paul's Church-Yard. MDCCLXXXVII. (Price two shillings.) 8vo, pp. (4), 80. B. 81137

Corrected title of No. 69508, Vol. xvi. I am indebted to Mr. James Bain, of the Public Library at Toronto, for information that the above-named pamphlet was written by Lieut.-Col. Simcoe.

"Mr. Simms' book is one of that limited class of historical works, for which the reader will feel from youth to age, that he owes a debt of gratitude to its garrulous and perhaps not over-scrupulous author. It is the very model of a local history. Crowded with details of the adventures of the early settlers of the Mohawk Valley, in their conflicts with their savage neighbors, we do not stop to question their authenticity. The midnight massacres, the long and weary captivities, the surprises of Indian camps, the bloody encounters between the scouts and their savage foes, are all narrated with a credulous faith, and an artless style that wins and preserves the reader's attention."—FIELD.
